Curtain rises on theater renovation

By JULIE MURPHY

The curtain rose for PM&L Theatre, as the limelight revealed the renovations to one of Antioch's beloved institutions. The official dedication took place immediately following the ribbon-cutting ceremony on March 23.

The open house was nearly packed to capacity as theater-goers, dignitaries and curious residents came in to see the revamped theatre with a new interior and amenities that barely offer a hint of its former self.

The front lobby has been expanded as well as the balcony and an upper level lobby. In addition to a new coffee room, both bathrooms are larger and have been updated. President Tom Hausman said the auditorium has been renamed in memory of Spiering, and that the sprinkling system has been dedicated to Homer and Francis LaPlant in honor of their bequest.

The theater group that became PM&L Theatre began in 1960. "We didn't intend to have members," said Betty Smouse, publicity director. "That just happened." Nonetheless, the founding 12, or 13 including Betty who pitched in $5 with her husband Ken Smouse's $5) gave $10 each to be part of the Palette, Masque and Lyre (PM&L) Theatre group.

"It all started when the PTA held open auditions for 'Time Out for Ginger' for a fundraising play," said Ken. "There were all sorts of people in the auditorium. I thought if that many people want to do this play, there is a place here for community theater."

Ken and Betty chose the name PM&L as the theater's name at their college was P&M. "We weren't too creative about it," said Ken. "We added lyre to represent the musical arts (with palette representing physical art and masque representing theatrical art)."

By 1964, the group rented the space that was to become the permanent home of PM&L Theatre at 877 Main St., Antioch.

"The first year we rented this building we thought it would be lucky if we were still here after one year," said Ken.

Betty added, "It was so weird when we first got this theater. It had a dirt floor and we had to redo the basement first with pea gravel and then a boardwalk."

For a long time, PM&L Theatre never repeated any of the shows it had previously done. "We went 20 years without repeating," said Ken. "It was a matter of pride, but then

Bog fire controlled

By JULIE MURPHY

Firefighters prevented a fire that burned over 10 acres of cattails from reaching a neighboring horse farm and homes.

The fire occurred on March 23 at 4:20 p.m. in unincorporated Antioch Township in the area of Wilmot Road west of Lake Ave. The fire had spread from one end of the slough and was burning itself toward the homes and barns that border the area.

"Our first concern was setting up a defensive perimeter near the horse farm," said Chief Dennis Volling. "Once that equipment was in place, it was just a matter of letting the fire burn itself towards us rather than unnecessarily risking our personnel by sending them out to the middle of the slough."

He added that the fire was very labor intensive. "Our crews had to walk the entire length of the fire line by foot using hand tools to put the majority of the fire out," said Volling.

Lt. Chris Lienhardt, information officer for the Antioch Fire Department, said that while a bog is wet at the ground level, all of the tops of the cattails were dry and burned easily.

"The dry conditions worked to our favor, though," he added. "After most of the fire had been knocked

Too 'Close' to call

Candidate George Close opts for write-in slot

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Off again, on again village trustee candidate George Close won't officially be on the ballot, but the candidate has decided he's on and is registered with the Lake County Clerk as a write-in candidate.

Close's petition for the position was challenged and stricken from the ballot for not being clear enough in the heading that he was running for village trustee as opposed to library board trustee. He appealed the decision made by the municipal officers electoral board, but the decision was upheld that his name would not be included on the ballot.

"I decided I would run as a write-in candidate after a bunch of people told me they were going to write my name in anyhow," said Close. "I know the fact that my name won't appear on the ballot won't help, but I'm going to do it anyway."

Close said he doesn't really "want" to be a trustee and that it's not in his nature, but feels the board will be better with him than without him.

He said, "I want this to be a well-run town with no hidden agendas. Frankly, I'd rather not do all the hard work it will take serve on the board, but if that's what it takes, that's what it takes."

Close added that he wants the local government to be open, honest and accountable. "Board members are our agents," he said. "We have to trust them to listen to us and take our opinions under consideration."

He noted that he has no vested interest in Antioch, except that he lives there and loves it. "I have no financial interest at stake," he said. "I cannot be bought and I cannot be pressured. I have nothing to gain."

Close said it's important to him to judge all situations on their own merit, and that includes development.

"There is going to be growth here," he said. "The developers are going to come. We have to figure out to channel their energy into things that are positive for Antioch, and we have to make sure it's not done behind closed doors or without explanation."

Of his chances of winning, Close said, "I think I have a 50-50 chance. I think if you're honest and open that people will at least respect that."

Close has lived in the village for 14 years and has spent nearly the same amount of time as vice president of operations for Vein Clinics of America.

you realize people have their favorites that they like to see." Betty noted that musicals tend to be the ones people want to see over and over again.

Hausman, who has been with PM&L for 31 of its 41 seasons, said, "You can have culture in your own backyard. While it's fun to go into the big city, it's not necessary."

He added that the lifeblood of the theater has been community support. "We're into our 42nd year," said Hausman. "We've been kept alive by community support. We have to have this community support."

One-third of the bequest generous Dolly Spiering bequest went toward this renovation, the rest is in an investment account to help keep PM&L an Antioch tradition well into the future.

"Not-for-profit theaters like ours must depend on the kindness of benefactors to continue to bring live theater to audiences," Hausman said.

PM&L is selling tiles to help offset costs. The tiles will eventually fill the north wall of the new coffee room in the lower level.

"This is a great way to have the community be a part of the renovation," said Hausman. "Everybody can help to make PM&L Theatre better."

All donations to PM&L Theatre are tax-deductible. Tiles for the "wall of thanks" will be sold in three sizes.

A 4 by 8-inch tile with three lines of up to 13 letters will cost $50. An 8 by 8-inch tile with five lines of up to 13 letters will cost $100. A 12 by 12-inch tile with seven lines of up to 19 letters will cost $500. Logos can be included on the tile.

Samples of the tiles can be seen at the theater.

Hausman said the tiles would be for sale at least through the end of this year.

"We're going to make this ongoing," he said. "We'll put a section of tiles as we get enough to do so. We're going to display some pieces of artwork in between the tiled sections. It will look very nice, and people will be able to see their names."

For more information about purchasing a tile, call Hausman at 847-395-7489.

out with brush fire brooms, we determined the ground was solid enough to bring in a brush truck."

One Antioch firefighter was transported to the hospital for a leg injury.

The cause has not been determined at this point, and there was no official loss estimate.

"Plants in the wild have no official value," said Lienhardt. "These cattails will all grow back with no problem."

Mutual aid came from fire departments in Trevor, Lake Villa, Zion, Newport Township, Fox Lake, Round Lake, Salem, Wilmet, Gurnee and Silver Lake.

Auditions held for upcoming PM&L productions

PM&L Theatre is holding auditions for its next regular production as well as its next readers' theater.

Auditions for "Not Now Darling" by Ray Cooney and John Chapman will be held on Monday, March 31 and Tuesday April 1 at 7 p.m. at the theater located at 877 Main Street. Cast members should be men and women from mid-late 20s and up. Five men and six women will be cast.

On April 2, auditions for the readers' theater production will consist of two sketches from "Durang, Durang" by Christopher Durang at 7 p.m. This production will be held one day, on April 27. Director Donna Abear will need both men and women between 20-60 years old.

"Not Now Darling," a face-paced farce set in a London fur salon, will run May 23-June 8. Backstage crew is also needed, and those interested can attend the audition. For more information, call 847-356-1889.

Those needing more information about the readers' theater should call 847-395-6451.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The future is up to the voters

There is one candidate that is independent, will stand up against developers and threats of lawsuits, and is willing to speak and vote on behalf of the residents. He believes the process should be followed. There should be no "done deals" 'and' behind closed doors" decisions.

Ralph Antonelli is not your typical politician, as he has character, integrity, and a moral conscience. We should all vote for this candidate and change the future tide of Antioch.

9 face off for 3 spots on Antioch High School board

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Ten candidates will appear on the ballot seeking four open slots on Antioch Community High School District 117 board of education.

Joyce Henneberry is running unopposed to fill a two-year vacancy created when Larry Peterson unexpectedly resigned this past fall in the heat of the K-9 controversy. After several interviews, Henneberry was selected to fill the void until this election that she opted to enter.

The remaining nine candidates are seeking the three regular four-year term slots. All three who currently hold board positions are running as incumbents: Sandy Jacobs, Edward Kozirowski, both of Antioch and Kathy Werchek of Lake Villa. The other six candidates are Reed Ano, Vickie Axton, Dave Dziki and Thomas McConnell, all of Antioch, as well as Marty Gewerke of Lake Villa and Kathleen Van Dien of Lindenhurst.

Because 30 percent of the taxable property in the district is in an unincorporated area, two of the six board members must reside in either unincorporated Antioch or Lake Villa. Phil Delany, president, and Aileen Biel both reside in Antioch Township and have two more years left in their terms.

The other four board members may be elected from any area within the district.

Most of the candidates spoke at candidates' night held by the Lake Villa Republican Club.

Dziki was the most animated, raising his voice over bringing the K-9 unit into the high school for random checks. "I was outraged in December when the board said the dogs couldn't come into the school," he said. "They have no real drug program in the school all they have is a 'student assist' program. Last week Vernon Hills and Libertyville locked down the school to do a search. Not until the board was put to the fire did dogs come in."

Though not present at this event, Kathleen Van Dien has been equally vocal about her insistence that the police and K-9 units be allowed access to the high school for random searches.

"The K-9 issue caused me to want to run," she said. "I do support the random drug testing for students in extracurricular activities, but they should have brought the dogs in first."

While the incumbents all defended the position taken by the school board this past fall, and that searches had to be within the control of the school to be constitutional, all of the candidates had to choose sides as the only question posed was over the issue of K-9 searches.

Mary Jane McConnell, speaking on behalf of Tom who was away on business, said that part of the reason he had decided to run was to "explore and resolve" the drug issue. "Tom and I have talked about this," she said. "He is in favor of eradicating drugs in the high school, but by mutual agreement."

One of the pillars of McConnell's campaign is to have a "respectful partnership with the village and townships."

Gewerke's campaign emphasis centers more around working to improve ACT scores and school spirit and said the school board, village and townships "should act like adults." When asked specifically, he said he was in favor of using the dogs to eliminate drugs in the school.

Henneberry, Axton and Ano took a less staunch stand, though clearly want a drug-free safe environment for students.

"It's a great platform to jump on," said Ano. "I didn't think we'd be the drug czars. We try to hide our heads, but there are problems in every office, in every building, everywhere."

Axton, who was previously on the board of education for Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 where Antioch's K-9 unit makes regular appearances, said, "I am for the dogs if it is done in a legal manner, if the principal invites them."

Henneberry said she thought the topic was misrepresented, and we do want to make a drug-free environment. "I'd like to see it put aside and see real issues like education and growth addressed."

Red doesn't always signal trouble

Dye spill turns out to be safe

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Red that appeared in the water at the Hiram Butrick Sawmill on the morning of March 20 proved to be nothing more than a plumber's dye to find a leak in nearby home.

"We have certain steps that we have to take and we took them," said Lt. Chris Lienhardt, information officer the Antioch Fire Department.

Members of the department's Haz-Mat Team responded with mutual aid from 15 other departments as well as Lake County Fire Department. Two Haz-Mat support vehicles and a specialized response team were sent to the site.

Antioch Fire Chief Dennis Volling said, "The SRT Team is a great example of departments working together to provide all the necessary equipment for use at a scene that is cost prohibitive for an individual department to purchase."

The Antioch Fire Department contained the red substance upstream from both the Antioch Upper Grade School and WC Petty School. Both were notified of the situation, and no students were ever at risk.

During the investigation, it was determined that a plumber checking a home with a flooded basement north of the sawmill used red dye to determine where the leak was in the home. The leak led into the storm sewer and then drained into the pond at the sawmill.

This was confirmed by conducting the same test using a different color dye.

Visiting artist conducts workshop at local studio

Ceramic artist comes April 12

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Pottery is offering a special workshop with internationally renowned ceramic artist Xiaosheng Bi on Saturday, April 12 from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Bi graduated from the department of ceramic art and design of Beijing Central Academy of Arts and Design with an MFA in 1995. He now works and teaches in Evanston.

"Xiaosheng creates astonishingly beautiful porcelain vessels," said Jill Tortorella, owner of Antioch Pottery and the workshop's organizer. "His throwing involves ancient Chinese shapes of the finest quality. We will all be amazed at his exquisite carving techniques."

Advanced registration is required. The cost is $30.

Tortorella recommends bringing a lunch and extra money. "Xiaosheng will bring finished works for purchase," she said.

Antioch Pottery offers classes for both adults and children. Winchester is one of four artists that Tortorella will bring in to conduct special workshops throughout the year.

Tortorella earned a BFA from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

She has exhibited work in over a dozen shows in 2001 in Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Oklahoma.

Her works are in the collections of the following corporations: Amoco Oil, Fleming Co., Dean Goad Interiors, The G.H.K. Co., Stifel Nicolaus, Quaker Oats, Perception Inc., Levin & Shredder, HAR Aerospace, Hackneys Restaurants, Mary Barnes Donnelly Foundation, and The Lake Forest Bookstore.

Not too late to support scouts' effort

Antioch Junior Girl Scout Troop 683 is helping out the Blessed Trinity Food Pantry by collecting personal care items such as shampoo and toothpaste to re-stock currently empty shelves. There is a collection box at Emmons School in the office, and items will be accepted until March 28.

Leader Melonnie Hartl said the girls took it upon themselves to organize the drive. "It made them feel really good about themselves to be there helping. While there was plenty of food, the pantry was out of many of the extras that were being requested," she said.

Topping the list for requests are the following: paper towels; baby diapers, particularly in medium and large sizes; deodorant, men's and women's varieties; shampoo and conditioner; laundry detergent; dish soap and light bulbs. Other needed necessities include: baby juices and soy formula, baby bath, coffee, sugar, napkins, facial tissue, women's sanitary items, canned pet food and small-size bags of kitty litter.

Additionally, the girls have created a coupon box that they bring to the pantry with them on Tuesdays. Those visiting the pantry would be invited to help themselves to coupons of use for them.

Donations can be made directly to the pantry for those who read this article after the Girl Scouts' drive ends. The pantry is run out of St. Peter Church, 847-395-0274.

March 28 is the opening date of "Guys and Dolls" and the newly renovated PM&L Theatre.

The theater looks beautiful. The new surrounds should add quite a bit to one's enjoyment of the production.

PM&L chose this legendary musical comedy as it was the first musical comedy performed on stage in 1964, both directed by Ken Smouse, a founding member.

The show will run Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2:30 p.m. through April 13.

Reservations can be made by calling 847-395-3055.

Mixing it up with 'Dance With Us'

By PJ BEEMER
Lakeland Correspondent

Two lines form on the dance floor, one of men and one of women. As the music plays, the man and woman at the beginning of the line meet in the middle and join hands. They dance down the line until, reaching the end, they break apart and rejoin the lines while another couple dances. And that, said Dawn Wittig, co-founder of "Dance With Us," is a mixer.

"Dance With Us," was founded almost four years ago to provide residents of Waukegan and its surrounding communities with an opportunity to learn and show off new and old dance steps as well as to meet people and enjoy themselves.

Taking place once a month in the Belvidere Recreation Center, "...we do Latin dances, the cha cha, the mambo," said Wittig.

"...as well as waltzes and jitterbugs."

"Dance With Us" is geared towards people from the age of 16 all the ways up to seniors. We have, said Wittig, some 84-year-olds who come.

Before the mixer, there is a half-hour of lessons from an instructor, and then the dancing begins. "Some come but don't need a lesson," said Wittig. "Some come to practice what they've learned. My teachers are there to help."

There is a small entrance fee, but "Dance With Us" provides food as well as punch and water for refreshments.

The next mixer will take place on April 5 from 6:30-10 p.m. at the Belvidere Recreation Center. The Center is located at 412 S. Lewis in Waukegan.

For more information contact Dawn Wittig at 847-244-7702 or the Belvidere Recreation Center at 847-360-4700.

DUI

David J. Greene, 43, of 594 Whispering Pines, Lindenhurst, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on March 21 at 1:04 a.m. in the 1000 block of Route 45.

Police locked him traveling 68 mph in a 55-mph zone. The officer turned around and followed the car and observed it cross the yellow centerline.

When the officer stopped Greene, the strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on his breath. Greene failed all field sobriety testing requested of him. A preliminary breath test resulted in .169 blood alcohol concentration.

Greene was arrested and issued citations for speeding and DUI. He took a follow-up breath test at the police department that resulted in a .172 blood alcohol concentration reading.

Greene was issued additional citations for improper lane usage, not having insurance and DUI over .08. He was released on personal recognizance pending court.

Martin A. Tessmann, 29, of 1064 Main Street, Antioch, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on March 14 at 1:07 a.m. on Route 83 north of Orchard.

Police observed him cross the yellow centerline and that the rear registration plate light did not work. A check through LEADS/NCIC/SOS returned information that Tessmann had a suspended driver's license.

The officer had detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Tessmann's breath and requested field sobriety testing, all of which he failed. A preliminary breath test came back with a reading of .159 blood alcohol concentration. He was arrested for DUI and driving with a suspended driver's license.

At the police station, Tessmann refused subsequent breath testing. He was issued additional citations for improper lane usage, driving while suspended and having no registration plate light. He was released on personal recognizance pending his April 1 court date.

No valid driver's license

Lynette A. Wilson, 41, of 113 North Ave., Waukegan, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on March 21 at 5:45 p.m.

on Route 173 at Route 59.

An officer was dispatched to the area for a possible DUI. He found the vehicle had no registration displayed. A check of Wilson's identifiers through LEADS came back that there was no record on file, and she told the officer she had no license.

The officer could not detect alcohol, and Wilson did not appear intoxicated. She was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license.

Additionally, Wilson was issued citations for driving an uninsured vehicle and for not having valid registration. She was released on personal recognizance pending her May 14 court date.

Suspended driver's license

Marcella G. McIntosh, 40, of 25302 W. Hawthorne, Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on March 23 at 6:48 p.m. on Hillside at Lake Street.

She was stopped for failing to stop at the stop sign. A check through LEADS/NCIC/SOS returned information that her driver's license was suspended.

McIntosh was arrested and issued citations for disobeying the stop sign and for driving while suspended. She was released on $1,000 recognizance bond pending her April 9 court date.

Upper grade band receives award

On Saturday, March 8, the Antioch Upper Grade School Senior Band competed in the Illinois Grade School Organizational Contest. The contest was held at Viking School in Gurnee. The Upper Grade Senior Band received a Superior First Rating from the three judges.

Family Math Night at Oakland

About 90 parents and students met at Antioch's Oakland Elementary School on a cold night in February for Family Math Night. Fourth and fifth graders helped their parents work on a variety of problems with a heart theme. Participants had a chance to find the weight of a heart, the fat content in Valentine candy, congruent shapes, and used string to compare height and arm span.

Each person estimated the number of M&M's in a jar. Fourth-grader Lena Mitsuuchi won the jar with her close estimate! Many parents commented how much

Easter Musical Performance

First Assembly of God in Kenosha will present their last regularly scheduled Easter musical on April 16, 17, 18, and 19 at 7 p.m. There will be a 3:30 p.m. performance on Saturday, April 19, in addition to the evening performance.

Public ticket day is Saturday, March 29, from 9-11 a.m. The cost is only $4 per ticket. The church is located on Highway 50, just east of I-94. After the public ticket day, tickets can be ordered by phone 262-694-3300 or by mail.

The 2003 Easter musical is entitled "We Choose To Bow." Watch and hear the story of Jesus, His teachings, and His miracles. See the triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem to the waving of palms. Witness His arrest and betrayal, The Last Supper, His walk to Calvary, His crucifixion, His resurrection, and His ascension into Heaven. This message is told through the eyes of Pontius Pilate and his wife.

Come and see the trial of Jesus from a different point of view, from the one who sent Him to the cross. If you have attended one of First Assembly's musicals, you will agree that it was a wonderful and life-changing performance. Don't miss this chance to see their last regularly scheduled Easter musical.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Deciding roles

As the upcoming municipal election nears, it appears that non-village resident John Moulchin, on the ballot as a candidate for Village Trustee, has already been earmarked to lead the Finance Committee of the Village of Antioch if you read his campaign flyer. Where does that leave Mr. Caulfield who appears to be doing a fine job in that position? And, I am not aware that the other candidates have been approached regarding their committee assignments. There are other candidates who have the skills and experience to lead the Finance Committee as well. But then, the other candidates are not being backed by the mayor of Antioch. Perhaps the Mayor should wait until after the election to determine who leads what.

Mary Dominiak
Antioch

One man's garbage is another man's gold

I have been saying for more than a decade that there is a fortune to be made in garbage. If anyone doubts this assertion, one needs only look at the fiscal strength of companies like Waste Management.

As a candidate for state representative, I was a strong proponent of developing alternative energy resources as one way to combat our dependence on foreign supplies of energy while subsequently reducing our own costs of energy. Also, when one considers the rising costs of energy, which have placed further burdens on an already overburdened taxpayer, it would seem logical that any means to reduce energy expenditures would seem viable.

Energy costs contribute to an already escalating cost of education and if the recent defeat of school referendums is any indication, then any means that could reduce the cost of education to the taxpayer should seriously be considered (Mary Dominiak, Antioch News letter to the editor, Feb. 26).

I applaud the innovative approach of the Antioch school district to reduce costs by using methane gas, gas that would otherwise be wasted, to offset the rising costs of energy. The obvious benefits of recycling waste while reducing the cost of the school's operation cannot be overlooked. This is a perfect example of a school board trying to responsibly reduce the cost of education and this effort should be supported and applauded.

Have we become so shortsighted that we cannot see innovation? Have the NIMBY'S overtaken the process to the extent that we discount, or ignore, the significance of powering our schools' energy needs through recycling a waste byproduct created by our own consumption?

If we want to reduce our dependence on foreign energy supplies then I suggest we start using technology for that purpose.

I applaud those who advocate using our waste to offset the rising costs of heating our schools. I believe that the Antioch proposal should be a model for schools and other governmental bodies across the country to initiate energy recycling and conservation.

The plans to utilize such potential suggest a vision of the 21st century that needs to be implemented on a much broader scale.

Voters have just defeated referendums requesting higher taxes to fund the day to day operations of educating our children. The defeat of such referendums imply that the public is saying "find other ways to fund how we educate children."

Here we have a viable alternative aimed at reducing increasing costs of education, and in contrast, a small segment of the public appears to be saying that other alternative means of belt tightening were intended. The opposition to this program makes it appear that nothing is satisfactory to appease the unappeasable. My experience as a candidate for state representative showed that most people hold their hands out asking for a little larger slice of the pie while at the same time saying, "give me more but don't raise my taxes to do so."

The Antioch energy proposal will reduce the taxpayer burden and yet there are those who whine about noise or whatever. Life is give and take and my interpretation is that some selfish segments of the general public would not know a good alternative if it whacked them in the face.

This idea is innovative, environmentally responsible and signifies a hopeful wave of the future. Either lead or get out of the way.

I support the innovative idea of using spent methane gas to fuel our desire to reduce the costs of education and I will gladly do whatever possible to help engage further support of such an outstanding idea.

Steven Skinner
Round Lake

Conflict of interest

Voters in Antioch need to know there is a potential "conflict of interest" of sorts in the upcoming election. Mary J. Turner, sister of village administrator Mike Haley, is campaigning to be elected to the village board.

Now, there's nothing illegal, but just the appearance of one's sibling in a position of policy for a member of the staff...in fact the "chief" of staff is a dangerous precedent. Citizens can draw their own conclusions.

Regardless, the purpose of this letter is to inform Antioch voters of this fact. An informed electorate is in everyone's interest.

Trustee all wet

I want to let the people of Antioch know that Trustee (Barbara) Porch is all wet. In her recent opposition to the Antioch village board investigating an Aquatic Center for the residents of Antioch, she continues her "Doubting Thomas" and I am the only one who cares approach. This new political posture has served her well over the last year, but has failed the residents of Antioch during her term in office.

I wonder if she has been to the current pool recently and if she knows the dangers it presents to swimmers of all ages. Has she watched the swim team members push off the wall to start a race because the pool has been ruled unsafe?

I'm sorry to hear she feels there are better uses for the money. Did she voice opposition to improvement plan (infrastructure improvements in the process)? Did she voice opposition to any of Marilyn Shinelug's plans for growth? Did she ask questions for the seniors as the village under Tim Wells misled them? Has she been any a part of any of the efforts of the current administration to bring the village out of its hole and into a position where it can propose a recreation center for its residents? Why has she only cared for the last year?

From what I have seen, she has not been a true trustee for the residents of Antioch as its future is planned. She is being manipulated by the opponents of Wal-Mart into an individual who stalls and delays as much as possible, usually at the expense of the village and its residents. We need the moratorium to continue forward and proper planning for the village to take place. Is she paid as executive director of the Chamber of Commerce to chase businesses out of town? We need Trustee Porch to encourage businesses, not just a select few who currently pay her salary.

I hear rumors all over town of her personal vendettas against certain village employees and wonder why instead of working to improve village operations she is trying to dismantle the village one person at a time. We need to continue to grow this village in a responsible manner and undercutting those who have been a part of the revamping of the village into a functioning unit is not the wise course to take.

Now I read a flyer in which she specifically is running with Ralph Antonelli on a platform of negative comments and belittling statements. Trustee Porch, where is your professionalism and integrity?

When the election takes place April 1st, I ask all residents to vote for those individuals who have the future of Antioch at heart, not those who are all wet.

Bob Cashmore
Antioch resident

Enough is enough

It seems that we all should be concerned about constant rising tax bills. Everytime we vote up pops another referendum. The new Antioch High School will not affect our taxes until 2003, now Emmons School wants a referendum passes on April 1st 2003 for more money. We already had an across the board tax increase for 2002. When will it be enough????????

Seniors do have the benefit of a tax freeze, however they are still affected by referendum increases. Besides seniors, and people on fixed incomes, how can any middle income families afford these excessive increases. If the overdevelopment of homes would subside, the constant need for school referendums would slow down. It's a known fact that industry (i.e.: Wal-mart) brings revenue into the community which would ease the burden on the homeowner.

I'm tired of seeing signs to VOTE YES, when peoples bank accounts are screaming NO!!!!!!!!!!!!

Keeping kids first

As an avid proponent of "Putting Kids First" and Keeping Kids First" for over 20 years, I have tried to instill in young musicians' minds that we do our talking NOT with our mouths, but with beautiful sounds which we try to create and produce with our instruments. There is no better example of this than our IGSM Contest in Gurnee where one senior band took Superior First Place (Perfect Score).

It is now our parents and friends turn to take action by simply voting YES on April 1st and preserve this quality education in our schools.

Earl Bush
Band Director, AUGS

Senior speak

I am a resident of the Village of Antioch, a member of the Antioch Senior Center for the past 12 years, and the vice president of the Senior Center's Advisory Council for the past two years. Sixteen months ago Barbara Porch, our village trustee, was instrumental in keeping Paul Howard as director of the Senior Center.

She has been an invaluable advocate for the Senior Center ever since and an effective liaison between the Senior Center and the village board.

For the sake of the Senior Center and the senior citizens of the Village of Antioch, it is imperative that Barbara Porch be re-elected to the position of Antioch Village Trustee on April 1st.

Tony Viverito
Antioch

Question actions

The political and judicial wrongdoings in Lake County specifically the Village of Antioch, continue to amaze and appall. On March 17, Lake County Judge Ray McKoski upheld the ruling to allow John Moulchin, a current NON-ANTIOCH RESIDENT (and candidate backed by the Mayor) to remain on the ballot for Village of Antioch Trustee. Mr. Moulchin's lawyers stated that it was his intention to live in the Village. Illinois election statute requires a one-year residency prior to running for office. Nowhere in the statute does it state that an intention to live somewhere constitutes residency.

Judge McKoski equated Mr. Moulchin's current non-resident status to a city official who was living outside the village because he could not find housing in Antioch while his Antioch home was being rebuilt after a fire—it's doubtful this is the intent of the statute.

Mr. Moulchin's Antioch home was not destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, or any other unfortunate circumstance. The Moulchin residence in Antioch was sold on June 14, 2002, fully intact. He is building a new home in Antioch, but he did not sign the contract to build until November 2002 and it will not be ready for occupancy until months after the April 1, 2003 election—he is, therefore, NOT a resident. Ironically, this is blatantly opposite to the Mayor's adamant dismissal of "people who don't live within the Village limits," who he frequently declares have no say in Village affairs. If Mr. Moulchin is concerned about Antioch and wants to be a voice for its people, why did he choose to live outside the village while his new home was being built? And why did Mr. Moulchin continue to keep his children in the Antioch public schools without paying dues for nonresidents?

Does Mr. Moulchin think that the citizens of Antioch want a trustee that falsified his residential address on official election applications, as well as cheated the Antioch school districts out of tax dollars? Actually, this kind of unethical and dishonest behavior fits well with the current administration of Antioch. The Mayor even took time from his busy schedule to appear in court in an attempt to ensure that his candidate got on the ballot. The fact that a Lake County judge overlooked all of this makes absolutely no sense. It makes it more imperative than ever that honest, forthright, upstanding people who are actually residents of Antioch are elected for Village Trustee on April 1st.

We needed this

A Johnsbury Rescue Squad vehicle that was brand new when Alden-Hebron made its storied run to the state title in 1952 escorted the Skyhawks boy's basketball team home to a warm welcome from families and friends.

The sirens blared, there were many thanks and standing ovations from the faithful, who had made the trip to the Elite Eight in Peoria. The Skyhawks did not get the ending their team and fans had hoped for, a 47-24 loss to Glenbrook North in the quarterfinals, but that did not stop the feeling of pride of accomplishment. Head Coach Ed Sennett's squad finished a school-best and historic 30-2.

"It was not just Johnsbury High School but the whole community, and we got a lot of support from across the state," said JHS Athletic Director Jim Meyers.

Meyers said that he received many a compliment about the way not only the team and cheerleaders, but the fans, too, showed themselves. JHS won a sportsmanship banner from the IHSA.

"Everyday was something new. After our win in Moline, we sold 1,000 T-shirts in a few minutes, and we sold out our allotment of tickets," Meyers said. "Accepting the sportsmanship banner last night was quite an honor and thrill. I have been judging those for the Class A tournament and liked it because it brings the small towns out. The sea of blue in the stands impressed a number of people."

"We had an outstanding year. Good things happen to good people, and we had great people to work with. It was a very gratifying feeling to look up and see those blue shirts," Sennett said. "We were 30-2. I was just as proud as how we did it as the wins and losses."

Sennett thanked all those connected with the team, including cheerleaders, managers, assistant coaches Rick Bailey, Don Bentz and Matt Zarnsdorff, scorekeeper Carol Touissant, and the school administration and fans. Sennett is in his ninth year at JHS and has 482 career coaching wins in a 34-year career.

"I am a firm believer that cheerleaders make a difference in the big games," Sennett, whose wife Lynn is cheerleader advisor, said. "It was nice," senior Brad Preston said of the reception. "It helps take away some of the disappointment."

"We're so proud of the boys to get this far," said fan Barb Ryso.

Byron Hutchings is glad that his family picked Johnsbury when they moved from Colorado.

"He started playing basketball in middle school," Hutchings said of his son, Justin. "We wanted to choose a small community like Johnsbury. My high school in Utah, Brigham, won the state title some 30 years ago."

It was Hutchings' job to test Johnsbury's leading scorer, 6-8 John Smith, in practice. Hutchings, a junior, is 6-5.

Starters on the memorable team that won their own Thanksgiving tourney, Jacobs Christmas Tournament and Big Northern Conference titles before regional and sectional titles before advancing to the Elite Eight included junior Mike Walsh, a transfer from Hoffman Estates, and seniors Adam Vesley, Shane Neiss, Smith and Preston.

Other contributors to a memorable year were juniors Javier Reyes, Bob Michelau, Aaron Harmon and George Salminen, and seniors Mike Maretich, Dan Gallina, Zach Beyer and Joe Saunders, who hit the last basket of the year, a three-pointer.

A village-wide celebration commemorating the season will take place on April 5 at 3 p.m. on the JHS varsity football field.

JHS has moved its winter sports awards back to March 31.

John Phelps can be reached at 847-223-8161, ext. 132; fax 847-223-8810; or e-mail at edit@lnd.com.

2003 Lakeland Media Girls Basketball All-Star Team

Steve Peterson and John Phelps contributed to this report. Photos by Sandy Bressner, Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom, Candace H. Johnson and Steve Young.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Amy Peters
Sr., Warren

The 6-foot, 1-inch Bradley University-bound senior helped the Blue Devils to a 23-8 record and berth in the sectional semifinals. A two-time Lakeland Area Preseason Player of the Year and Player of the Year, Peters tossed in 17 points per game, including a career-high 34 twice this season. She moved into the second spot on the school's all-time scoring list with 1,729 points. Peters also grabbed nine rebounds per game and finished her career second on the school's list for career rebounds. Named to the Illinois Coaches Association All-State team for the second straight year.

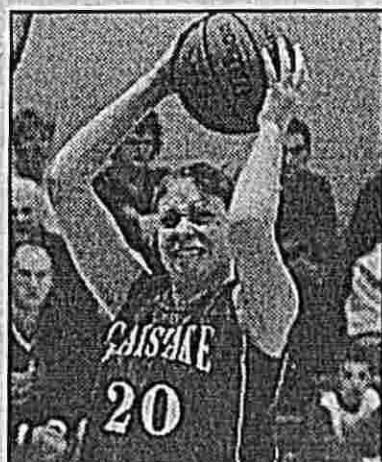

COACH OF THE YEAR

Tom Oeffling
Grant

Yes, the talent was there. But so was the coaching. After setting a school-record for wins in a season last year, Oeffling and the girls did one better this winter, setting a new school mark while winning 20 games for the first time in the program's history. Grant started the season 9-0 and finished as champs of the North Suburban Prairie division.

DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Tiffany Lehner
Sr., Grayslake

You wouldn't know that Lehner was 5-feet, 9-inches tall. But as the season went on, the senior forward got better and better at defending in the paint. She could also score and rebound, to the tune of 14 points and eight boards per game. Helped lead Grayslake to second place in the Fox Valley Conference and a date in the sectional finals. Her leadership helped the Rams win 22 of their last 24 games to finish with a school record 26 wins.

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR

Beth Rosendahl
So., Mundelein

After losing all of its starters from last year's regional championship team, someone had to assume the leadership role. Rosendahl, a 5-foot, 8-inch sophomore guard, did that. She netted close to 13 points per game while running the offense. That included five games of 20 points or more, including a season- and career-high 28 against Niles West.

Lake County youth baseball forum a success

Representatives from youth baseball teams across Lake County joined forces to discuss issues revolving around youth baseball in Lake County.

Eight different leagues had representatives attend the forum. Four other programs showed interest but could not attend. A variety of topics were covered.

"We discussed issues and challenges, and becoming more cooperative and sharing information more regularly," said Craig Polak, vice president of Grayslake Youth Baseball. "We also talked about more county leagues hosting more tournaments for county programs, and discussed building a new Lake County Travel program."

In the forum's debut for Lake County Youth Baseball, it was decided that similar forum's should be held twice a year, with Grayslake Youth Baseball volunteering to host the next one scheduled for sometime next September.

"The group was so pleased with the outcomes that we decided that we will hold similar forums twice a year from now on," said Polak. "Once the baseball season is over. We'll also have another forum in February, just before the new baseball season starts."

The goals of the forum were exact and simple, and Polak believes that overall, the program was a success.

"Our goals were to get representatives from Lake County youth baseball programs together in one room, for the first time in history, to share information, network, and work together to build a stronger, more cooperative group focused on youth baseball," he said. "It was absolutely a success, all attendees will be sharing their experience with others who did not attend, so that in future forums, we have more, if not all, youth baseball programs in the county represented."

Schools interested in participating in a future forum can contact Craig Polak of GYBA at 847-548-8411. —Joe Pruski

LINDENHURST PARK DISTRICT SPORTS

Youth soccer scholarship funds

Scholarship funds are available to those who are graduating high school and participated in the Lindenhurst Park District Youth Soccer Program. Applications can be obtained by asking your high school guidance counselor or check it out on the web site at www.all-soccer.com/leagues/usil/lindenhurst/lysl.

Youth soccer

(fall 2003, spring 2004)

Soccer registration for the 2003 fall and 2004 spring seasons will be held during May at the park district community center, which is open Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. After this date, registration will be closed. Interested players might be put on a waiting list with no guarantees that you'll be put on a team. A one-time uniform purchase consisting of a reversible jersey and socks is required. Black shorts are also required and may be purchased if needed. Players also need to provide their own shin guards. First-time players must provide a copy of their birth certificate when registering.

Each fall and spring season consists of one practice during the week and seven games during the season, played on Saturday's. The sign-up is May 1-30 for children in kindergarten through eighth-grade (as of the fall, 2003). The fee is $60 per player and $55 for each additional child. If interested in coaching, please let the park district know when you come in to register.

Camp Summertime

Get ready for a fun-filled, adventurous summer! Camp Summertime offers sports, art and crafts, games, swimming, playground activities, science experiments, and weekly field trips. Camp location and drop off is at the Lindenhurst Park District Community Center Gymnasium. Camp is for grades 1-6 as of the fall of 2003. Camp is held Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Sessions include: June 9-20; June 23-July 3; July 7-18; July 21-Aug. 1; and a special 1-week camp being conducted Aug. 4-8. The fees for each session are $107 for residents and $118 for non-residents.

Camp fun-time

Special Recreation of Lindenhurst will be providing a recreational camp for children with special needs. Camp Fun-time is offered for campers aged 3-6. Camp activities will be based on thematic units and will include games, sports, crafts, field trips and more. These camps are held Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at the Lindenhurst Park District. The fee is $130 per session with a $20 non-refundable deposit due at the time of registration.

Martial arts

Shotokan karate classes will be held at the park district's community center gymnasium. Classes are held on Thursday's, starting April 17 and running through June 19. The fees are $60 for residents and $66 for non-residents. Classes are offered for children aged five- and older up to adult.

30- and older hoops

Young at heart and want to play some ball? Come and get the thrill of recreational competitiveness in every pick-up game. Get fit and have some fun. A minimal fee is paid at the door. This open basketball is held every Wednesday from 7:30-9 p.m. at the park district's gymnasium.

Senior aerobics

Keep fit and stay active! Join us for low-impact exercise set to a fitness video. Registration is not required. This class will be held on Mon., Wed. and Fri. from 8:45-9:45 a.m. The cost is $1 per visit.

Note: For more information, contact the Park District office at 847-356-6011 or stop by the office at 2200 East Grass Lake Rd. in Lindenhurst.

YOUTH SPORTS DIGEST

Camps Soccer

Carthage College in Kenosha will be hosting youth soccer camps this summer for those looking to improve on their technical as well as tactical skills.

Session I for girls ages 11-18 will be from June 22-26. Session II for boys ages 10-18 will run from July 6-10.

Upon conclusion of each camp, players will have thorough written evaluations.

For more information or a free brochure, please call coach Steve Domin at 262-551-5930 or visit the web site at domin@carthage.edu.

Clinics

The Stateline Comets Cheerleading program will be holding a clinic on April 12 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. at Richmond-Burton High School. The cost will be $30. A $10 discount will be offered for each additional sibling. Register by Mar. 22 and receive a free Comets T-shirt. As for the $30 fee, that will cover lunch, snacks and a parent show following the clinic. The clinic will also mark the final registration for the upcoming season.

"(The clinic) is a good way for the girls to get a taste of what cheerleading is all about, and if they want to pursue it," said Comets Director Katchmar.

Please call 847-587-1260 for further information.

In its first season, the Comets experienced tremendous success, having won seven trophies altogether in different age groups comprising five different squads.

Tournaments

Basketball

There are still openings for the North American Youth Sports youth basketball tournament that will be held in Lake Geneva, Wisc., at Lake Geneva Badger High School on April 25-27. Age groups for both boys and girls include fifth- and sixth-grade, seventh-grade, and eighth-grade. All grades are based on the grade in which the student is currently enrolled.

The entry fee for this tournament is $105 and guarantees each team a minimum of two games. There will be awards presented in each bracket. The entry deadline is Mar. 31.

Carthage College in Kenosha will be the site of another NAYS spring tournament the weekend of May 2-4. The entry fee for this one is $105 with the deadline being April 7. For further information on the Carthage tournament please call men's head basketball coach Bosko Djurichovic at 262-945-8513. Most of the tournaments feature 10 age brackets with each team playing a guaranteed 2-3 games.

For general information or entry forms, please call the toll-free NAYS spring tournament hotline at 800-787-3265.

Swimming

The CATS Aquatic team swimmers David Hedge, Michael Hedge, Ben Leboza, Sammy Clark, Steve O'Leary, Edgar Vargas, Heather Kiluk, Catherine Eschbach, Jen Schnell and Dana Davidsen made quite a splash at the National Speedo Championships last weekend.

David Hedge, 17, led the CATS with an eighth-place effort in the 200-yard freestyle (1:42.91). David Hedge also picked up 13th-place finishes in both the 100-backstroke (53.36) and 200-yard individual medley (1:59.98). Sixteen-year-old Heather Kiluk, a three-time IHSA State qualifier, placed sixth in the 400 individual medley (4:35.20), 13th in the 200-yard individual medley (2:10.77), and 21st in the 500-yard freestyle (5:13.65).

Also finishing in the top-25 in their respective events included 15-year-old Michael Hedge 13th in the 400-yard individual medley (4:14.00) and 19th in the 200 individual medley (1:59.65), 17-year-old Sammy Clark 24th in the 200-yard butterfly, 15-year-old Ben Leboza 16th in the 1,000-yard freestyle (10:08.44) and 17th in the 1,650-yard freestyle (17:42.36), 13-year-old Dana Davidsen 25th in the 100-yard backstroke (1:09.45), and 17-year-old Steve O'Leary 22nd in the 200-yard breaststroke (2:15.62).

As a team, the CATS finished in 17th place out of more than 50 teams from Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota.

CATS coach Kate Chronic accompanied the swimmers to Minneapolis.

The CATS Aquatics team is based out of Libertyville and Vernon Hills. Swimmers hail from all over the county.

Tee Time

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporter

Golden Tee Golf players are about one chant short of being a cult. The players, mainly guys in their 20s and 30s, enjoy this wildly popular, coin-operated reality golf game for the rush, the pure competition — and for the money.

Golden Tee, the eight-year-old brainchild of IT Incredible Technologies, Arlington Heights, has taken the country by storm. Golden Tee is, in fact, the Tiger Woods of the coin-operated amusement game business.

Players enter a video displayed golf course and instead of picking a 3-wood out of the golf bag, they step up to a roller ball, usually white and about three inches in diameter and give it a spin, sending a computer-generated golf ball out onto the fairway.

In general, the harder a player hits the ball, the farther the ball goes, but it can also go far enough — like real golf — to find trouble, such as a bunker, or a stand of trees, or a water hazard.

At $3-$4 a round, Golden Tee is a habit that's hard to break. And that's good news for this particular segment of the entertainment industry. More than 100,000 Golden Tee games are found in bars worldwide.

IT's success has smashed every coin-op game milestone with Golden Tee. According to Gary Colabuono, IT's marketing director, "We know that the typical player plays 2-3 rounds a night, 3-5 nights per week. On any night, he'll have 2-3 beers and a sandwich. He may buy cigarettes or a cigar. Chances are, he'll spend $10-$15 on the game and an additional $20 on food and beverages."

The much-anticipated 2004 version, introduced March 17, features seven never-before-played courses. To introduce the 2004 version, a new hard drive is installed in the machine, and of course, the old hard drive, with the 2003 courses is removed.

The much-anticipated 2004 courses include "Sword's Pointe" (a traditional Scottish links course), "Eagle's Peak" (a hilly course set in the Canadian Rockies), and "Blue Horizon" (an exotic Hawaiian course complete with volcanic eruptions) — plus four others, including two introductory beginner's courses.

It has built an added incentive into the 2004 update. Occasionally, players will be offered the Hole 'N' Win Challenge — the chance to win $25 or $100 if they can shoot a hole-in-one on their next shot. The cost is an extra 50 cents or dollar per game, a portion of which IT will share with game operators.

Skip Smith and his son, Sean, have owned Jessie Oaks tavern, 18490 W. Old Gages Lake Road, in Gages Lakes for seven years. They began with the first Golden Tee game about a year after they opened and now have three games. Jessie Oaks has league play and tavern players enter Golden Tee's national tournaments, in which players, depending on the skill divisions they are in, can win prizes from $25 up to several thousand dollars.

And winning can be profitable, because IT awards $225,000 in prize money every month. While some players pump several thousand dollars a year into the game, most are winning at least a chunk of it back.

"It's a pretty good profit center for the bar," said Sean Smith, who is an avid player and has posted numerous games well under par.

Smith said "When the game came out, it was not online; our operator did not want to take it online. But we finally did go online. People really like to see how they can do against other people in country."

Golden Tee allows players to pay their

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Focus less on career relationships and more on friendships based on mutual values and beliefs. Now's the time to slow down enjoy life at an easier pace.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

Well, Taurus, now's the time to dress to impress if you're determined to move up in the world. Don't try to be something you're not, but do show others what you're capable of.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

This is one of the most positive times of the year for you. Smile and don't be afraid to walk with your head held high. You can do no wrong this week, Gemini.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

Money's on your mind this week, Cancer. You've been distracted as of late, and have neglected your cash flow situation. Don't worry — you'll soon be able to make up any short-falls in your accounts.

LEO - July 23/August 23

This promises to be a wonderful week for you, Leo, as you're feeling particularly amorous. Treat that special someone to a romantic dinner night out on the town. It will definitely be worth it.

VIRGO - Aug. 24/Sept. 22

The sign of health, you're in the mood to improve your fitness level, Virgo. A change of diet and exercise routine is a must if you're to remain interested.

LIBRA - Sept. 23/Oct. 23

Forget about the past and all that's gone wrong in it, Libra. Many things are set to go right for you in the next couple of weeks. Loosen up and enjoy it!

SCORPIO - Oct. 24/Nov. 22

Focus on what's important to you this week, Scorpio. You could miss out if you spend too much time worrying about minor setbacks in recent weeks. Take it easy.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov. 23/Dec. 21

You may be feeling more relaxed than usual this week, which is great because the more you sit back and let life come to you, the more you'll enjoy every day. Money problems will cease to bother you by Thursday.

CAPRICORN - Dec. 22/Jan. 20

Over the next four weeks or so, you'll consolidate what you have gained and make it permanent. You should make time to enjoy it, you've certainly worked hard enough.

AQUARIUS - Jan. 21/Feb. 18

What goes around comes around, so think before you speak. There's no better time than the present to decide what you want most out of life and make it your own.

PISCES - Feb. 19/March 20

Profit and popularity are important, but peace of mind is even more so. If you have any nagging doubts about your personal or professional relationships, confront them now.

Lake County Extension Foundation's fourth annual Spring Bulb Sale

This past winter Mother Nature has been about as mean as she could be to spring bulbs! No nice blanket of snow to keep the poor bulbs protected against one of the coldest winters on record. Only 50 percent of the usual precipitation. Then, just before spring is supposed to arrive it snows; and then comes some of the coldest days ever recorded in March. This might be the year new bulbs need to be replanted.

The Lake County Extension Foundation's 4th Annual Spring Bulb Sale! Order your top quality bulbs in June, when you know what you need, to be picked up in September, at the perfect planting time. There will be a book with pictures of the bulbs available at the Extension Office along with a web site with color pictures. Don't miss the chance to make next year's spring a symphony of color. There will be a mixture of traditional and usual spring flowering bulbs. Some rodent resistant varieties, some that can tolerate wet soil, some that can be planted in the shade and some that like the clay soil.

The catalogues will be out late May. Be sure to make note of those bare spots and mark down or take pictures where your bulbs are when or if they come up this year. This will prevent any nasty surprises when planting in the fall.

To receive a catalogue call The Lake County Extension at 847-223-8672.

Spring Into Style

The Central Lake County Christian Women's Connection will host a luncheon on April 9 entitled, "Spring into Style". The luncheon will feature Weekenders-Clothes You Love to Live In, a fashion show presented by Ronnie Mechelau. Bobbie Chance of Park, Ill., is our speaker, and she will share her story "The Chance of a Lifetime."

CLCCWC hosts a luncheon on the 2nd Wednesday of each month. The luncheon is held at the Country Squire restaurant on Routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake from 11:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The cost is $13.50, inclusive. Complimentary, off-site childcare is provided. For reservations or information please contact Darcy Clemens at 847-336-4084 or Alice Roberts at 847-918-1518 or e-mail darcyannc@paxway.com.

Designing your total work environment

Whether you work in a cubicle, small office in town or from your home, your workplace can express your personality, convey professionalism and support productivity.

On April 3 at 6:15 p.m. you are invited to the Barrington Country Bistro, 700 NW Highway in Barrington (Route 14 and Hart Road), to find out how to create a work environment that fits your needs and the needs of your work team and clients. Bring a photo of your workplace and get suggestions from the speaker, Kathleen McCann, interior designer, decorator and founder of Savoir Faire Designs, Lake Barrington.

Kathleen is a superbly talented designer and creator of murals and furniture. She has worked in many homes in Lake Forest, and the North Shore and has recently relocated her business to Lake Barrington.

SPECIAL EVENT

ASSISI
AAF

Putting their best foot forward...

Models will be doing that on April 5 for the Assisi Animal Foundation's annual benefit champagne Fashion Show and Luncheon.

The event is a stylish introduction to spring and will feature bright new designs and colors of leading spring lines. Three very popular shops, "Savvy Spirit," Savvy Spirit Casual and "Peter Daniel," all of the Ice House Mall in Barrington will be participating with their selections from new and exciting lines found in those shops.

The day starts with reception and cocktails at 11:30, followed by champagne and luncheon, along with informal modeling of fashions. Proceeds of the event will help operate the area's first built non-kill shelter that also introduced animal assisted therapy programs now serving residents of eleven retirement and nursing facilities, and provides humane education programs for youngsters' classrooms and groups.

Tickets at just $25 per person, will not be available at the door, and the reservation deadline is April 1. Show organizers say tickets are moving quickly and suggest calling the Assisi Animal Foundation for reservations. For details and reservation please call Assisi Animal Foundation at 815-455-9411 or fax 815-455-9417.

AUDITIONS

Area productions need actors

Auditions for PM&L production of "Not Now Darling" by Ray Cooney and John Chapman will be held at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, on Monday, March 31, and Tuesday, April 1, at 7 p.m. Cast members should be men and women ages mid to late 20's and up. Five men and six women are needed. "Not Now Darling" is a fast-paced farce, set in a London fur salon. The show runs for three weekends May 23 - June 8. Anyone interested in working backstage is welcome to come to auditions to express interest. For more information call 847-546-1089.

There will also be auditions for a Reader's Theatre production consisting of two sketches from Durang, Durang by Christopher Durang on Wednesday, April 2, at 7 p.m. that will be given on Sunday, April 27. Both men and women are needed. For more information call 847-395-6451.

'Mary, Mary'

Auditions for the Waukegan Community Players Spring Show, "Mary, Mary" by Jane Kerr, and directed by Bob Baer, will be held Sunday, March 30, at 2 p.m. and Monday, March 31 at 7 p.m. at the Rosenwald Cottage in Bowen Park, 1923 N. Sheridan Road, Waukegan. Readings will be cold from script. There are parts for men and women. Performances will be held on May 9, 10, 16, 17, at 8 p.m. and a special Mother's Day Matinee on Sunday, May 11, at 3 p.m. All shows are held at the Ann Kiley Auditorium in Waukegan. For more information call 847-244-7469.

Lake Geneva Area golf courses feature special spring packages

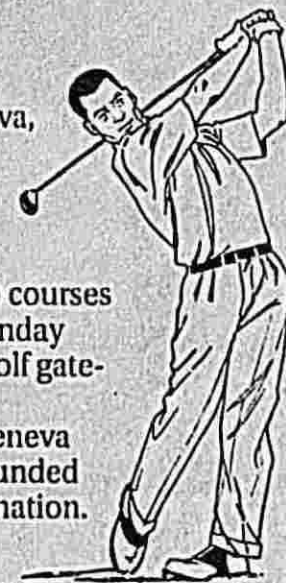

Golfers awaiting the spring thaw can look no further than the legendary resort town of Lake Geneva, Wis. and nearby communities where they can take advantage of the "Golf Around the Lake Spring Spectacular" special promotion from April 1 through May 23.

Golf is king, and savings abound as six of the area's top courses have teamed up to offer 36-hole golf packages available Sunday through Thursday which promises a perfect early season golf gateway for players of very skill level.

"Golf Around the Lake" is a project of the Lake Geneva Golf Council, a consortium of six members courses founded in 1998 to market the Lake Geneva Area as a golf destination.

Participating courses include: Abbey Springs Golf Course; Evergreen Golf Club; Palmer; Trevino and Player courses at Geneva National Golf Club; the Brute and Highlands courses at Grand Geneva Resort; Hawks View Golf Club and Hillmoor Golf Club.

The Lake Geneva area is located just 90 minutes from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport and 45 minutes from General Mitchell International Airport in Milwaukee. For a complimentary guide of the area activities and accommodations contact the Lake Geneva Area Convention and Visitors Bureau at 800-345-1020 or visit its web site at www.lakegenewawi.com money, play nine or 18 holes of golf, and with a three-initial signature, post their scores among the best recorded on that particular game.

Also, players using an ITS card can enter a signature and list their scores, if good enough, against other players around the U.S. and world.

Sean Smith, whose ITC card indicates he has played 820 games in the last year and a half, has had months in which he's won as much as $100 or $150, he said.

Dan Skip plays the game a lot more, but Sean said "I'm better than Dad is."

Summer time is big business time for Golden Tee, said Sean. Which means more money for the bars and more money for Internet Technologies. "IT is very smart," said Sean. "If I charge $4 per game, then they get $1 in any on-line tournament. And for league play they get a little less money."

"It's also smart for them to upgrade the machine to keep it interesting every year. Instead of the cost of a whole new game, this company has an upgrade kit, with a new hard drive."

"Offering new courses keeps players coming back," explains IT CEO Elaine Hodgson. "We knock ourselves out to introduce a great update every year. This year is particularly exciting because we're introducing seven new courses-not the usual five-including the two beginner courses."

IT was the first coin-op game company to sponsor Internet-connected tournaments. To date, the company has awarded nearly $10 million in prize money - another reason players come back for more.

As a result, IT has catapulted from a modest $150,000 start-up to a $65 million powerhouse, breathing new life into the coin-operated amusement industry in the process.

How much is the introduction of the 2004 courses worth to Golden Tee operators? Nationally, IT projects that businesses with the game will enjoy a $15 million revenue boost.

At Saluto's restaurant, 7680 Grand Ave., Gurnee, Manager Bob Bode said the game, in the restaurant's bar area, offers a nice diversion for customers, as well as for businessmen and their clients.

"One of my regular customers brings in clients and they'll end up playing Golden Tee. You can only sit at the bar talking for so long."

"This is a nice diversion and it's definitely worth it for us to have the game here."

Mike Kuhn, a deejay and owner of M&M Music in Libertyville, runs leagues for Golden Tee, at Austin's in Libertyville, on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Kuhn also runs leagues at P.J. Willikers in Lincolnshire.

Kuhn said the game has grabbed the attention of area tavern clients, to the extent that a league player at Austin's, Matt Eppers, placed fifth in the Golden Tee Las Vegas tournament last year.

"The courses never come easy," said Kuhn, an avid player himself. "Some people can hit the short cuts better than others, like where you go through two big oak trees, or bounce over the King's Canyon wall."

Kuhn said good players are not ones who "just get up there slam the ball. There's a lot of finesse and technique. You have to play the curves and play the wind, and other influences."

Kuhn said when leagues are running, "it's competition, you're looking over at the other game board and seeing that Joe is 14 under after 14 holes. And you're trying to do your best on the next shot."

"I think best thing about it is that women are getting involved in it. We have a girl who puts up 10 or 12 under par all the time now."

And Golden Tee athletes are not immune to injuries, particular to the indoor game. Sean Smith said players may jam fingers or get thumb blisters. And in one instance, a player at Jesse Oaks broke a finger.

At Mickey Finn's, on Milwaukee Avenue in downtown Libertyville, employee Kevin Baird started playing Golden Tee last summer and admits being hooked. "After my work shift here, I usually come up every day and play. There's a group of us who play after work on some days."

And of course, there's the matter of protecting one's standing in the Golden Tee community: Baird said last week that he has posted the best scores on Mickey Finn's machine.

Peking Acrobats to perform at CLC

Witness the magnificent and amazing feats

China's most gifted tumblers, contortionists, jugglers, cyclists and gymnasts will bring their 2,000-year-old art to the College of Lake County when the Peking Acrobats perform on April 6. The performance will be held at 7 p.m. in the Mainstage Theatre in the Performing Arts Building at CLC's Grayslake Campus.

The exciting atmosphere of a Chinese carnival will prevail as the troupe performs magnificent movements and amazing feats of contortion with incredible dexterity. The performance will include daring chair maneuvers, treacherous wire walking, precision tumbling and gymnastics and trick cycling maneuvers and more.

Tickets are $25 for the general public, $23 for CLC students, staff and alumni and seniors 65 and over, and $12 for children under 12. The program is funded in part by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

Call the box office at 847-543-2300 for tickets. Visa, MasterCard, American Express and Discover will be accepted.

Volo Bog seeks library help; hosts workshops

Volo Bog State Natural Area is looking for an adult to process books for the site's reference library.

The candidate must be detailed oriented, able to use a word processing program, and be available to work about four hours a month.

Training and guidance will be provided. The ongoing project involves production of library shelf cards for each new book, including title, author, subject and shelf list cards. Spine labels are also provided and placed on the books. The books are then shelved, and cards are filled for reference by the public, site volunteers and staff.

Volo Bog State Natural Area's reference library is open to the public during the regular visitor hours Wednesday-Sunday, from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. More than 1,000 books and countless articles are available for visitor reference. As a reference resource, the items are not available for check out to the public but rather for their enjoyment while visiting the site.

Interested candidates should contact Volo Bog Site Naturalist Stacy Iwanicki at 815-344-1294 for more information. Volo Bog State Natural Area is located in Ingleside on Brandenburg Road, west of Route 12 between state Routes 120 and 134.

"Project Wild" and "Project Wild Aquatics" are two interdisciplinary, supplementary, teaching tools designed for teachers of grades kindergarten to 12. Together, the two sessions at Volo Bog, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on April 5, may cover such diverse projects as biodiversity, culture, economics, food chains, habitats, land use, resource management and more. Skills incorporated include observation, classification, analysis, problem solving and research. Subject areas covered are: science, math, social studies, language arts, environmental education and expressive arts. There are 170 activities included that correlate with the Illinois Goals for Learning. Participants in the workshop receive two free books, one for each project. The books are cross-referenced via subject, grade and skill. Also, participating teachers will receive seven Continuing Professional Development Units (CDPS.).

Volo Bog Naturalist Iwanicki will be the workshop facilitator. She asks participants to bring a sack lunch and dress for indoor and outdoor activities.

A biological-control program for homeowners and community representatives will be held regarding loosestrife from 12:30-3 p.m. April 12 at Volo Bog State Natural Area.

Illinois Natural History Society scientists will share the history of purple loosestrife, focusing especially on the biological control efforts that began in the 1990s. The program will utilize two species of beetles that come from the same parts of Eurasia where purple loosestrife originated. Extensive research indicates that these little herbivores will only feed on purple loosestrife. The program is for adult property owners and community representatives. Interested youth ages 14 and up are welcome, when accompanied by an adult.

Reservations are required. Contact Volo Bog at 815-344-1294.

Let heaven and nature sing!

Sunday, April 6 1:30 - 3 p.m. Volo Bog State Natural Area welcomes native gardener Perle Olsson as she presents her story of a gardening transformation. Perle began as a traditional gardener, using a palette ranging from tulips to chrysanthemums. Then, twenty two years ago, an exciting discovery changed her habits forever. Today she maintains her yard in a colorful array that requires no fertilizer or insecticides. She plants according to soil, moisture and light requirements and attracts a great variety of wildlife that make homes throughout her 2 1/2 acre native heaven. Perle is the chairperson of the Wildflower Preservation and Propagation Committee of the McHenry County Defenders. Ages 12 to adult will be inspired by Perle's story illustrated with her own slides. Reservations are required. Call 815-344-1294.

No clowning around! Friends, families, teams, and volunteers are registering for the MS Walk presented by Rebirf on April 6. Join them by calling 800-FIGHT MS or visit the web site at www.msillinois.org.

Old Cell Phones for Charity

Precious Lambs Preschool announced that it has begun collecting old, unused mobile phones as an ongoing fundraiser to finance the addition of new playground equipment.

Communications' companies operating overseas recondition and sell the phones to consumers in several foreign countries. At the same time, these old phones don't wind up in local landfills, where the batteries do considerable environmental damage.

A drop box has been set up outside the preschool office at Shepherd of the Lakes Church, 285 Washington St., Grayslake. Any portable phones, with their batteries are suitable, except for bag phones. Sprint phone donations must also include the battery charger. Call Precious Lambs Director Debbie Schardt for more information, 847-223-4111.

Precious Lambs Preschool is a ministry of Shepherd of the Lakes Lutheran Church, a growing ministry located in Grayslake, Ill. They serve the needs of the community, including young families with children, youth, and seniors through traditional and contemporary worship, Christian education, small group ministries, youth ministries and outreach ministries to the needy.

Rating
PG-13

For sci-fi life/death situations and brief strong language

Director
Jon Amiel

Starring
Hilary Swank, Aaron Eckhart

The core of the earth stops rotating, causing the electromagnetic field protecting it to rapidly decay. Within a year the planet will deteriorate to the point that all life will vanish.

Large groups of pigeons start to fly into walls at London's Trafalgar Square, and a space shuttle entry is thrown off course and forced to land in the Los Angeles river basin. Scientist Josh Keyes (Aaron Eckhart) convinces the renowned Dr. Conrad Zimsky (Stanley Tucci) that the earth's core has come to a halt and the planet is doomed. Dr. Zimsky goes to his former friend, Dr. Ed Brazzelton (Delroy Lindo) for assistance. Brazzelton has created a subterranean craft with an outer shield to withstand the heat and resistance forces of the inner earth...theoretically.

Think "Armageddon," except here the space ship goes into the interior of the earth to plant and detonate explosives to jump-start the core. NASA Navigator Maj.

Reel Movies

George & Pam Singleton
www.reelmoviecritic.com

Rebecca Childs (Hilary Swank) is the Captain of this mission.

The launch takes place in the middle of the ocean, and by the time the "terranauts" are ready to hit bottom, they have gained a high rate of speed, which combined with the laser drill, that rotates like a huge circular bit with large teeth, propels them into inner earth.

"The Core" is a campy, satirical film about the role of diplomacy, how we treat our planet, and the weapons we develop (MAD = Mutual Assured Destruction).

Ultimately, you will laugh "with" the picture rather than simply "at" it. We recommend "The Core" because it makes you think. It's entertaining from beginning to end, you come to care about the "cardboard characters."

Considerable thought went into the story, we enjoy seeing Delroy Lindo at his best, and Hilary Swank illustrates that women can lead in combat and not just follow. Many critics will probably complain about the clichés but much of life is a cliché. As they say, "we got a job to do" so let's do it.

NEW RELEASES

These films are currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews and Future Films at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

Opening This Week

Basic: Rogue agent John Travolta of the DEA (Drug Enforcement Agency) investigates the disappearance of Commander Samuel L. Jackson and several of his men when they don't return from a mission.

Blue Collar Comedy Tour: The Movie: We see behind the scenes stories as well as live on stage work by Jeff Foxworthy, Bill Engvall, Larry the Cable Guy, and Ron White.

Chaos: This "women get even" flick has lots to say about sexism.

A 16-year-old learns how to use sex as a weapon, and in doing so is gang raped. She seeks and gets her revenge. Playing at The Music Box Theatre.

Head of State: Chris Rock is an alderman who is selected to run for President of the US after the death of another candidate. He's ill prepared but that's not the point. His brother Bernie Mac is his running mate.

Family Ties

Stevie, starring Stephen Dale Fielding

Stevie burns across the screen and leaves a permanent scar on your intellect. You think you know these people; poor, white, living in trailers and run down houses just off the limited-access highways and rural routes we speed along in our cars and SUV's. The same filmmakers chronicled the lives of a poor, black, urban family, living in the projects in their critically acclaimed, award winning documentary "Hoop Dreams," nearly 10 years ago.

Director Steve James and fellow producers Gordon Quinn and Adam Singer have again produced what Quinn describes as, "...a film that looks at families in often ignored American communities, as they deal with the consequences of their own and society's actions."

When Steve James was in graduate school at Southern Illinois University, he became a Big Brother for young Stevie Fielding of Pamona. Stevie, physically and emotionally abused by his mother, Bernice, was left, when a toddler, to be raised by her mother-in-law who, in a cruel twist of fate, lived next door.

A few years later Steve moved to Chicago to begin his career, promising to keep in touch with Stevie, which he didn't do. Ten years later, when Steve returns to Pamona, Stevie has grown into a troubled, disheveled young man, sporting a chain with an 8-ball dangling around his neck. Several foster homes, more abuse, and a string of arrests pepper his past. But he also has a fiancé, Tonya, a bit slow but devoted to Stevie and kind.

A horrendous crime that Stevie confesses to but later denies devastates the family and threatens to tear them apart permanently. The relationships with his estranged mother, his Grandmother Vernia, who raised him, and his sister Brenda and her husband, are threadbare, at best. The plan to do a small film about Stevie's life escalates to a more than five-year project.

Steve James' on-screen involvement was unplanned as well. As a documentary filmmaker he wanted to be unobtrusive. Because of his history with Stevie, however, and at the urging of the crew, Steve says, "I found myself becoming a character."

"Stevie" is populated with characters, perhaps some you'll recognize from your own family. Tonya's friend in Chicago, who is disabled, is unforgettable. An inspiring couple, once foster parents to Stevie, offers him encouragement.

We each have our story, and nobody knows it quite like our family.

A farmyard full of fun

Spring starts when Lambs Farm officially kicks off another successful season on April 7.

Starting April 7, families are invited to come visit the Farmyard and other Lambs Farm attractions seven days a week. The Farmyard has a variety of domestic animals such as ponies, llamas, donkeys, chickens and pigs. This spring, the Farmyard will boast a variety of newborns including chicks, lambs and calves. Inside the Farmyard is the Discovery Center, where learning about farm life and farm animals is an interactive and fun experience.

While down on the farm, don't forget to sample the many other attractions Lambs Farm has to offer. Test your skills at a game of 18-hole miniature golf, take the family on an old-fashioned wagon ride, hop on the miniature train ride or take a spin on the carousel.

The Farmyard is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission to the Farmyard is $2 for adults and children ages two and up. Miniature golf, wagon rides and the miniature train ride are $2 for adults and children ages two and up. The carousel is $2 for children of ages one through 12. Package deals and season memberships are also available for the Farmyard and attractions. For additional information please call Lambs Farm at 847-362-4636.

Breakfast with the Easter Bunny

On Friday, April 18, and Saturday, April 19, join the Easter Bunny for a scrumptious breakfast at the Lambs Farm Country Inn restaurant before he hops out of town! Kids will enjoy a visit and photo with the Easter Bunny, as well as a surprise gift. Visit the Easter Bunny Playland for arts and crafts, face painting, fun with JoJo and Kiwi the clown and a wagon ride around Lambs Farm.

Space for Breakfast with the Easter Bunny is limited. Seats are available at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on both days. Prices are $11.95 for adults, $15.95 for children ages 2 through 10, and $6 for children under 2. To reserve your spot call Lambs Farm at 847-362-5050.

Easter Brunch

Looking for a new place to enjoy Easter brunch this year? Try Lambs Farm Country Inn Restaurant in Libertyville. On Sunday, April 20, enjoy a delicious Easter Brunch featuring freshly carved roast beef and ham, homemade fried chicken, an array of side dishes and a dessert.

Seats are available at 10 a.m., 12 p.m. and 2 p.m. Prices for Easter Brunch are $14.95 for adults, $7.95 for children ages 2-10 and free for children under 2. For reservations call Lambs Farm at 847-362-5050.

Now through Easter, Lambs Farm will be taking orders for handmade Easter baskets. Each handmade basket is filled with an assortment of sweet treats, including an iced lamb cookie made from the famous butter cookie recipe of Lambs Farm. Each basket is beautifully packaged in a wicker Easter basket with a festive bow. You can order baskets to surprise your child at Breakfast with the Easter Bunny, Easter Brunch or at home on Easter morning. Baskets are $20.95 each plus tax and must be pre-ordered and paid in full at the time of purchase. To order your basket in time for Easter, call the Lambs Farm Country Store and Bakery at 847-362-4636 ext. 738.

For additional information on Lambs Farm, their mission, and the variety of family activities they host, call 847-362-4636 or visit the web site at www.lambsfarm.org.

Long Grove shops spring into activity for Artisan Weekend

To highlight the creative activities taking place in Long Grove shops throughout the year, the Long Grove Merchants Association will host an Artisan's Weekend March 29 and March 30 in the historic business district. All workshops and demonstrations will take place in the host shop. All are free, except where noted. Participating stores will post signs in their windows. Shop hours are 10 - 5 on Saturday, and 11 - 5 on Sunday.

The following activities are scheduled for Saturday: Glass artist Pam Orlando creates a stained glass window from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., at Pam's Glass Works in the Mill Pond complex 847-634-6555.

A representative from Camille Beekman Body Care will discuss skin types and appropriate skin care beginning at 11 a.m. at the Long Grove Soap and Candle Company 847-634-9322.

From 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. clay artist Deb Weber will visit the Keeping Room to sculpt her whimsical Claybabies 847-478-8224.

Illinois artist Marla Shega will demonstrate her stipple art at the new shop Trillium 847-913-9301.

At 1 p.m. Red Oaks Fine Home Furnishings will host a free workshop entitled "Room Transactions with Accessories," 847-634-3044. A staff interior designer will show how different styles and moods can be achieved by changing accessories.

The following activities will take place throughout the day on Saturday and Sunday.

Watch resident artist Nick DePaolo of Cassandra's at work on an original oil painting. He will demonstrate varying techniques used to create different effects 847-634-2920.

Nick Seva, owner of Dakota Expressions will share his knowledge of Native American jewelry, the importance of turquoise to the Navajos, and the differences between Navajo and Zuni jewelry 847-634-8250.

Paula Malone of Bead Soup will teach the basic skills of stringing and closing to make a beaded bracelet 847-634-2062.

Prairie Papers will show how to create custom invitations and bind books for journals 847-478-1748.

Amberland Artisans will display amber pieces and discuss the various characteristics of these petrified tree resins so popular in jewelry. In addition, and only on Sunday, March 30 from noon to 2 p.m., 847-821-1768.

Nickelby's will conduct a Medallion Art class, teaching a multi-layering technique using paper to create Faberge-like Easter eggs. Pre-registration is required, and there is a class fee of $20, 847-634-6552. For information on all Long Grove shops call 847-634-0888.

Little Stars

The Buffalo Grove Park District Fine Arts is proud to present a new class, Little Stars, for children ages 3-4 and 5-7 who enjoy to sing and entertain. This vocal class will be offered beginning April 7 to May 19 from 4 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. for 3-4 year olds and from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. for 5-7 year olds at the Alcott Center, 530 Bernard Drive, Buffalo Grove. The fee for the class is $75 plus a Fine Arts fee of $7 for an individual or $10 for a family. For registration information please call 847-850-2132.

Holy hootin' 'n hollerin'-it's church with Randy Travis

My husband has had his cowboy boots standing at attention for weeks. There was no way we were passing up a Randy Travis concert, or Dad would drone on forever like some lovesick waitress ditched at a truck stop. And, frankly, I hoped an evening with Randy would finally provide Dad with some "closure" ... before we had to take out a broadcast license as our own country radio station.

It didn't seem like much to ask. After all, Randy Travis was playing at, of all places, a local church. Flash back to childhood ... I can still remember Aunt Faith scolding me during Sunday school as I methodically pushed dried peas up my nostrils out of boredom. They were SUPPOSED to be glued on our framed tablets of the Ten Commandments. (She got a whole lot angrier when I slipped in an Eleventh Commandment: "Thou Shall Not Stick Dried

LIFE

Leslie Glazier-Werner

Peas Up Thy Nose.")

Even worse was being filed into the big church by dark-suited ushers with all the vitality of undertakers. It might as well have been a funeral; my attention always died in the first few minutes of some choral dirge. The only thing that sustained me was a constant supply of Nana's butterscotch candy, and as I squirmed in the hardwood pew, the prospect of blessed relief for my backside.

Flash forward to concert day at Willow Creek Community Church in South Barrington. As soon as I saw the police barri-ades and endless line of cars, I knew this wasn't going to be any day of rest. It looked like Charlton Heston had forgotten his lines during the Exodus scene, "Let my people... (uh)...IN!"

But never underestimate a die hard Travis fan like Dad, even with a family in tow. At the next available parking spot, a good mile from the church, he had us abandon ship for a leisurely "triathlon" in hopes of elbowing out the few thousand other churchgoers. Nothing builds character like a frenzied jog through muddy fields, followed by a game of "pedestrian chicken" with a tidal wave of vehicles exiting from the previous service. Then a final assault on a construction site obstacle course at the entrance ... all the while dangling three kids from various arms and hips.

STILL, that wasn't good enough for Dad. There was no time to drop the kids off in Sunday school if he was going to capture prime seating. (How come I was stuck pasting peas, while Willow kids enjoy a virtual arcade of games, crafts ... even their own band?) I feigned innocence as my husband frantically planted himself in various theatre-style seats like a paranoid movie critic. He finally settled on what he claimed was the "A" spot, "the locus of maximum acoustical enjoyment."

Unfortunately, this happened to be right behind a full-fledged, whiz-bang production booth with MANY button and lights, and VERY busy people. By the time the house lights went down, my kids made sure the booth and its occupants had undergone a barrage of questions, wall kicking and paper airplanes that would test the limits of Job. (We could hear a "cowgirl" usher in red and white leather whisper into her neckerchief as she alerted security.)

Luckily, the concert went off without a hitch. The kids and I were hooting and hollering with the best of them as Travis sang Gospel songs from his latest CD "Rise and Shine." Ushers twirling offering plates over our heads like circus jugglers couldn't distract us from Randy's account of a life turned around by faith. Somehow, no matter how big the crowd, Travis conveyed the true peace of a one-on-one relationship with God.

He even left us laughing as he gently mocked his North Carolina accent. Travis related the story of a traveler stopping in a Southern town to ask why their Nativity figures were all wearing fire hats. One of the townsfolk smugly replied, "Didn't them three wise men all come from a fire?" I'm sure South Barrington was wondering the same thing as we inched out of the Willow Creek campus that day. Let's pray the fire keeps going.

CLC spring theatre

"Come Back to the Five and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean," a comedy-drama by playwright Ed

Graczyk, will be presented by the theatre department at the College of Lake County. The production will open at 7:30 p.m. April 11 and will be repeated on April 12, 17, 18 and 19 in the Studio Theatre of the Performing Arts Building on the Grayslake Campus.

Set in a dime store in a small Texas town, the play tells the story of a couple of kids trying to become extras in the 1955 James Dean movie "Giant." Mona, cast as an extra, convinces herself that Dean is the father of her son. In reality it was Joe, a "look alike" who later, in the 1970s, becomes Joanne, a transsexual.

The CLC production is directed by Thomas Mitchell, theatre instructor. Tickets are $8 for the general public and $6 for CLC students, staff and alumni members and for senior citizens 65 and over. Call 847-543-2300 for tickets.

Pinocchio comes to life on stage

The magic of live musical theater, complete with beautiful dances and songs, colorful costumes and special effects, will bring the children's classic story of Pinocchio to life at the College of Lake County on April 6.

Presented by the American Family Theater, the production will be featured at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the auditorium, C005, on the Grayslake Campus.

The story begins with the owner of a toyshop, Gepetto, wishing one of his puppets, Pinocchio, was a real boy. Gepetto's wish is granted, and soon Pinocchio goes on many adventures when a boy from the village talks him into skipping school and going fishing instead. Pinocchio ends up trapped in Candy Land, turned into a donkey and swallowed by a whale before he finds himself home again. Following the performance, the characters will meet with children to sign autographs. Tickets are $7 general admission and $5

Gender conference at CLC

Jacqueline Woods, executive director of the American Association of University Women (AAUW), will be the keynote speaker at a gender conference at the College of Lake County on April 11.

Sponsored by the CLC Women's Center, the conference is titled "Voices, Visions and Visionaries: Conversations on Gender at the Community College." The first such event held at the college, will begin at 8:15 a.m. and conclude at 4:30 p.m. The conference will serve as a forum for community college members, especially students, to come together to share their experiences on gender issues that affect their lives in and outside the classroom, noted Teresa Aguinaldo, an English instructor and founder of the Women's Center.

"Our students come from diverse backgrounds and cultures, and they don't always get a chance to voice their concerns, daily struggles, ideas or achievements. This is an opportunity to engage in conversations that will reflect on gender identity and how it impacts them," Aguinaldo said.

The program will feature workshops and presentations on a variety of topics—"Gender and the Media," "Gender and Gay Issues," "Common Dreams: The Success Story of a Returning Female Student," "Emotional Challenges of Single Parenthood," "Breaking Gender Barriers through Non-traditional Careers," "Women in Literature," "Women Fighting Back" and more.

Keynote speaker Jacqueline Woods, an educator with more than 30 years' experience, will speak during lunch at 11:15 a.m. in Room C003. Prior to joining the AAUW, Woods served as a presidential appointee in the U.S. Department of Education as the director of the Community Colleges Liaison Office. In this role, she was a major policy advisor to the secretary of education and the Clinton administration on national public policy issues affecting the nation's 1,200 community colleges.

The conference is open to the general public. For more information, contact the Women's Center at 847-543-2771.

'Madwoman of Chaillot' at the Shimer College

Set in Paris between the two world wars, Giraudoux's "Madwomen of Chaillot" was written during the Nazi occupation of Paris and depicts the "little people" defeating evil. Despite the fact that Giraudoux wrote the play during the Nazi occupation of Paris in the early 1940s, it is an optimistic play, full of wit, absurdity and high comedy.

The plot concerns a group of greedy prospectors and civic leaders who plan to destroy an idyllic French town in search of oil and the strong-willed woman who responds to their rash scheme with one of her own. It is men who are feeding the war machine and the women who are trying to save the masses. The large cast of this "comedy with a message," which includes jugglers, gymnasts and all the eccentricities of four madwomen, will be a delight for people of all ages.

The play will be performed on Thursday - Saturday, April 3 - 5 and 10 - 12, at 8 p.m. in the Shimer College Gymnasium. Call 847-623-8400 for ticket information and reservations.

Free photography contest open to area residents

The International Library of Photography is pleased to announce that over $60,000.00 in prizes will be awarded this year in the international Open Amateur Photography Contest. Photographers from the Lake County area, particularly beginners, are welcome to try to win their share of over 1,300 prizes. The deadline for the contest is June 30. The contest is open to everyone and is free.

"Everyone has at least one memorable photo that captures a special moment in time," stated Christina Baylon, contest director. "When people learn about our free photography contest, they suddenly realize that their own favorite photos can win cash prizes, as well as gain national exposure," continued Baylon.

To enter, send one photograph in only one of the following categories: People, Travel, Pets, Children, Sports, Nature, Action, Humor, Portraiture, or Other. The photo must be a color or black and white print, unmounted, 8"x10" or smaller. All entries must include the photographer's name and address on the back, as well as the category and the titled of the photo. Photographs should be sent to The International Library of Photography, suite 101-2616, 3600 Crondale Lane, Owings Mills, MD 21117. Entries must be postmarked by June 30.

The International Library of Photography is an organization dedicated to bringing the work of amateur photographers to the public's attention. You can view the work of over 1.1 million amateur photographers at their website, www.picture.com.

Communities rally for youth with cancer

Wadsworth—Area communities are rallying around a Wadsworth family in an effort to help them deal with the huge costs of medical treatments.

Alec Michael Marquez, the 4-year-old son of Derek and Beth Marquez, was diagnosed with Neuroblastoma (stage 4 cancer) in 2001.

The Faith Assembly of God benefit talent show will be Saturday, April 5, at 6 p.m. at the church, at 1606 23rd St., in Zion. The donation to attend is $12 in advance and $15 at the door. For ticket information call 847-672-1673 or 847-263-7840.

Fire gets out of control

Antioch—Firefighters prevented a fire that burned over 10 acres of cattails from reaching a neighboring horse farm and homes.

The fire occurred on March 23 at 4:20 p.m. in unincorporated Antioch Township. The fire had spread from one end of a slough and was burning itself toward nearby homes and barns.

One Antioch firefighter was transported to the hospital for a leg injury. The cause has not been determined at this point, and there was no official loss estimate.

Some children are fasting for a reason

Round Lake Area—More than 20 young people from the Round Lake area will fast for 30 hours to help raise funds for the Hope Children Home near Nagercoil, India.

This annual event called "Hunger-4-Hope" will begin at 11 a.m. on Saturday, March 29, and will conclude at 5 p.m. on Sunday, March 30. Call 847-546-1000 for more information.

Downtown group wants review

Grayslake—Downtown Grayslake Association requested the village's Economic Development Commission review Center Street zoning ordinances in an attempt to attract the "right mix of retail businesses" to downtown.

Chris Beckord, DGA chairman, said the it requested the review to help move toward the goal of enhancing downtown, stressing the request to limit the number of service businesses in no way suggests that the existing downtown service businesses are not welcome.

Kirk Smith, a zoning officer with the village, said there is currently no regulation restricting the number or percentage of service-oriented businesses that can be downtown.

Area vets have a different perspective on war in Iraq

Some say war will get worse before it gets better

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporter

Elmer Hoskins is a veteran of Korea and Vietnam; Harry Tieman was in the infamous, World War II Battle of the Bulge. Both are from the Libertyville area and members of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8741.

Though choosing their words extra carefully, both say Americans should be prepared for more casualties in America's escalating ground war in Iraq.

Hoskins, a sergeant, was a member of the old-school U.S. Army paratroopers, all volunteers, who volunteered again, for Vietnam in 1965. In Iraq, he says, "as much as you hate to say it, we're in a war and people are going to get killed. You can't think back 12 years ago and compare this war to Desert Storm. The circumstances are different."

On the 50th anniversary of the truce in the Korean Conflict, Hoskins is part of a small group of veterans who this month are touring some schools in U.S. Reps. Mark Kirk's 10th district and Philip Crane's 8th district, on behalf of the Bush administration.

"There's a way that people are going to have to start thinking about (Iraq)," said Hoskins. "The other day I heard a report about three people being killed in Iraq. That's bad, but I remember the first day we were in Korea and 250 people were killed the first day."

"That's half a battalion. That's the way people are going to have to think about this war."

That said, Hoskins said "I think we are going to win and we have to get ride of (Saddam Hussein); to not do anything would be a bad mistake.

"We should have done that the first time in Desert Storm; we should have had a bigger objective than just freeing Kuwait (in four days, in February 1991). Anyone who will kill his own people with poison gas needs to be put out of business."

Hoskins said he feels bad for the families of servicemen presently overseas, but that's the price of freedom. "It's a war and people are going to be killed."

Harry Tieman, unlike Hoskins, was not a career man, but spent four and a half years in the army during World War II, and survived the infamous Battle of the Bulge, a turning point in the European Theater in World War II.

"I didn't approve of (the War on Iraq) at first," said Tieman, "but since we've gone this far, we have to see it to the end."

"This is a ground battle now and there are going to be a lot of casualties," he added. "I think we are going to get more than people expected."

And Tieman believes the Iraqi army has the potential to be as cruel as the Nazis during World War II. "I saw the Holocaust; and I don't see the Iraqis as the kind to take prisoners. They're terrorists and butchers. We've got to stop them now and it's going to cost us a lot."

What YOU'RE saying

The question: Do you feel that it is unpatriotic to protest the war in Iraq?

I have mixed emotions on it because we have family (in the service).

Carmen Garcilazo,
Vernon Hills

You have to experience being out of the country to appreciate what we have.

Janice Peterson,
Lake Villa

I don't think it's unpatriotic. It's our constitutional right to protest.

Jason White,
Lake Villa

I don't think these protests are going to stop the war.

Lynne Ellett,
Mundelein

Yes, I think we should be supportive of the troops, and the president's decision.

Pat Hays,
Antioch

People have the right to protest, but I don't like it when people speak against our troops.

Patrick Dunham,
Gulf War veteran,
Lindenhurst

We object when they slander the president and degrade the flag. It's over the edge.

William Geary,
Vietnam veteran,
Wauconda

No. We have freedom of speech and the people protesting are expressing themselves.

Gabby Dacheff,
Spring Grove

Senate approves road funding referendum

Lake County residents would decide if much-needed road repairs get funding under advanced by the Illinois Senate and long-supported by Senator Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

Senate Bill 154, which Geo-Karis has sponsored and passed successfully twice in previous years, would allow Lake County residents to raise a local sales tax and use the funds for local road improvements, only if the citizens vote to do so.

"Our county roads are in great need of repair and this is an excellent way to pay for those repairs," said Geo-Karis. "The best part is that this is completely voluntary — if the people of Lake County, don't want this, they can vote against the referendum. The choice is completely up to the voters."

Senate Bill 154 allows voters to increase the sales tax in quarter-cent increments and use the funds for transportation. Current law already allows counties to do this for public safety purposes.

Senators Terry Link (D-Lake Bluff), Bill Peterson (R-Long Grove) and Susan Garrett (D-Highwood) sponsored the measure, which gained approval 52-1 in the Senate March 19. It now advances to the House of Representatives for further consideration.

"I would hope that in a year where we are dealing with a budget deficit that the House of Representatives will move forward on this legislation," Geo-Karis said. "The House has declined to pass this bill the last two times we approved the plan in the Senate. This year, I hope they recognize the need for Lake County and other counties to find new revenue sources."

Mark Beaubien (R-Wauconda) will carry the legislation in the House. Beaubien also sponsored previous attempts to pass the legislation.

'Rice protest' puts nerves on edge at Crane's D.C. office

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

When an envelope appeared suspiciously bulky, staff members at 8th District Congressman Phil Crane's Lake Villa office decided to play it safe. They contacted the Threats Division of the Capitol Police in Washington, D.C., who asked Lake Villa police to follow protocols that have been in place since the 9-11 attacks and the anthrax scares of 2001.

Lake Villa police took the envelope back to the police station, where it was opened in a "sally port" to avoid direct contact with the substance in the envelope.

"We followed prescribed safety procedures," said Lake Villa Police Officer Erik Lindberg.

It turned out to be a harmless package. It contained some rice, accompanied by a note that said, "If your enemies are hungry, feed them. Romans 12:20. Please send this rice to the people of Iraq. Do not attack them."

The envelope was delivered to Crane's office by regular mail on March 12, just five days before the deadline for Iraq to comply with President Bush's demands.

Although the Capitol Police asked for a copy of the note, no other action was taken.

Crane's press secretary, Sarah Perkins, said staff members were discouraged from discussing the matter in any detail with the press. She said it was the only such letter received by Crane thus far.

The letter was sent by a DePaul student, 19-year-old Matt Machowski, of Gurnee. Machowski said he heard about the "rice protest" through various Christian groups. A number of web sites promote the anti-war protest.

"I am opposed to the war," he said. "This (protest) is a fight against imperialism...In order to make Iraq comply with U.N. rule, the U.S. will break U.N. rules."

Machowski, a political science major, said he has been interested in global politics since high school.

He has also been a local activist, taking part in protests against the establishment of a Wal-Mart store in Antioch, where he attended high school.

WAR

Against the backdrop of more sobering news accounts, National American Legion Comdr. Ronald F. Conley came out last week in full support of President Bush and called for national support of the war effort.

"I am convinced that President Bush has done everything possible to disarm Iraq peacefully," said Conley, from legion headquarters in Indianapolis. "No one wants war. Those of us who have seen the face of war and do not want to see such horror again — not for our families — and not for the families of others."

"The President has demonstrated patience and resolve in facing the threats of potential terrorist attacks by those armed with weapons of mass destruction," he said. "The U.S. must face facts; some things are worth fighting for and our freedom and security are paramount."

"At such a critical time in our nation's history, I call on all Americans to show support for our men and women in uniform. Show your colors once again by flying the American flag with pride, for the purpose of national unity."

'The people that are anti-war should go over there and live with them (the Middle Easterners) for awhile and see why our kids fight for our freedoms here. We don't want anyone at war either, but that's why we have freedoms is because of people like our children.'
Terry Andrews Salmon, Idaho—

Prayerful thoughts

An ancient preacher once wrote, "There is a time for everything. A time to be born, and a time to die; a time for war, and a time for peace." This is our "time for war." The world still has not captured the vision that living peacefully is better. Human egos convinced of their own righteousness are willing to bring harm to others instead of compromising. Terrorists on one hand and Saddam on another have made decisions that led others to decisions that brought us to war. War, however "precision oriented" we want it to be, is never as precise as we like. Our boys and girls are going to die, be hurt and be lost in the confusion of battle. There will be atrocities and inhumanities that will shock our sensibilities. Civilians always lose in the cross fires of armies and refugees have no safe place to go. Souls locked in combat on both sides come to you for your blessing seeking victory. So we ask that our boys and girls caught in this war do what they have to do without falling victim to man's inhumanity to man. May the war be short. May the casualties be light. May we ease the suffering of those who have no power to make decisions affecting the war, but are the victims of war anyway. We really want the people of Iraq, the region and the world to be better off after the war than they were before it. Amen

—The Rev Lisle J. Kauffman, Calvary Presbyterian Church, Round Lake. Fire and police chaplain. Secretary, International Conference of Police Chaplains.

Righting wrong on CLC board

William M. Griffin is so committed to serving the College of Lake County that he is campaigning vigorously for a seat on the CLC board Tuesday, April 1, even after suffering a humiliating defeat in the last election.

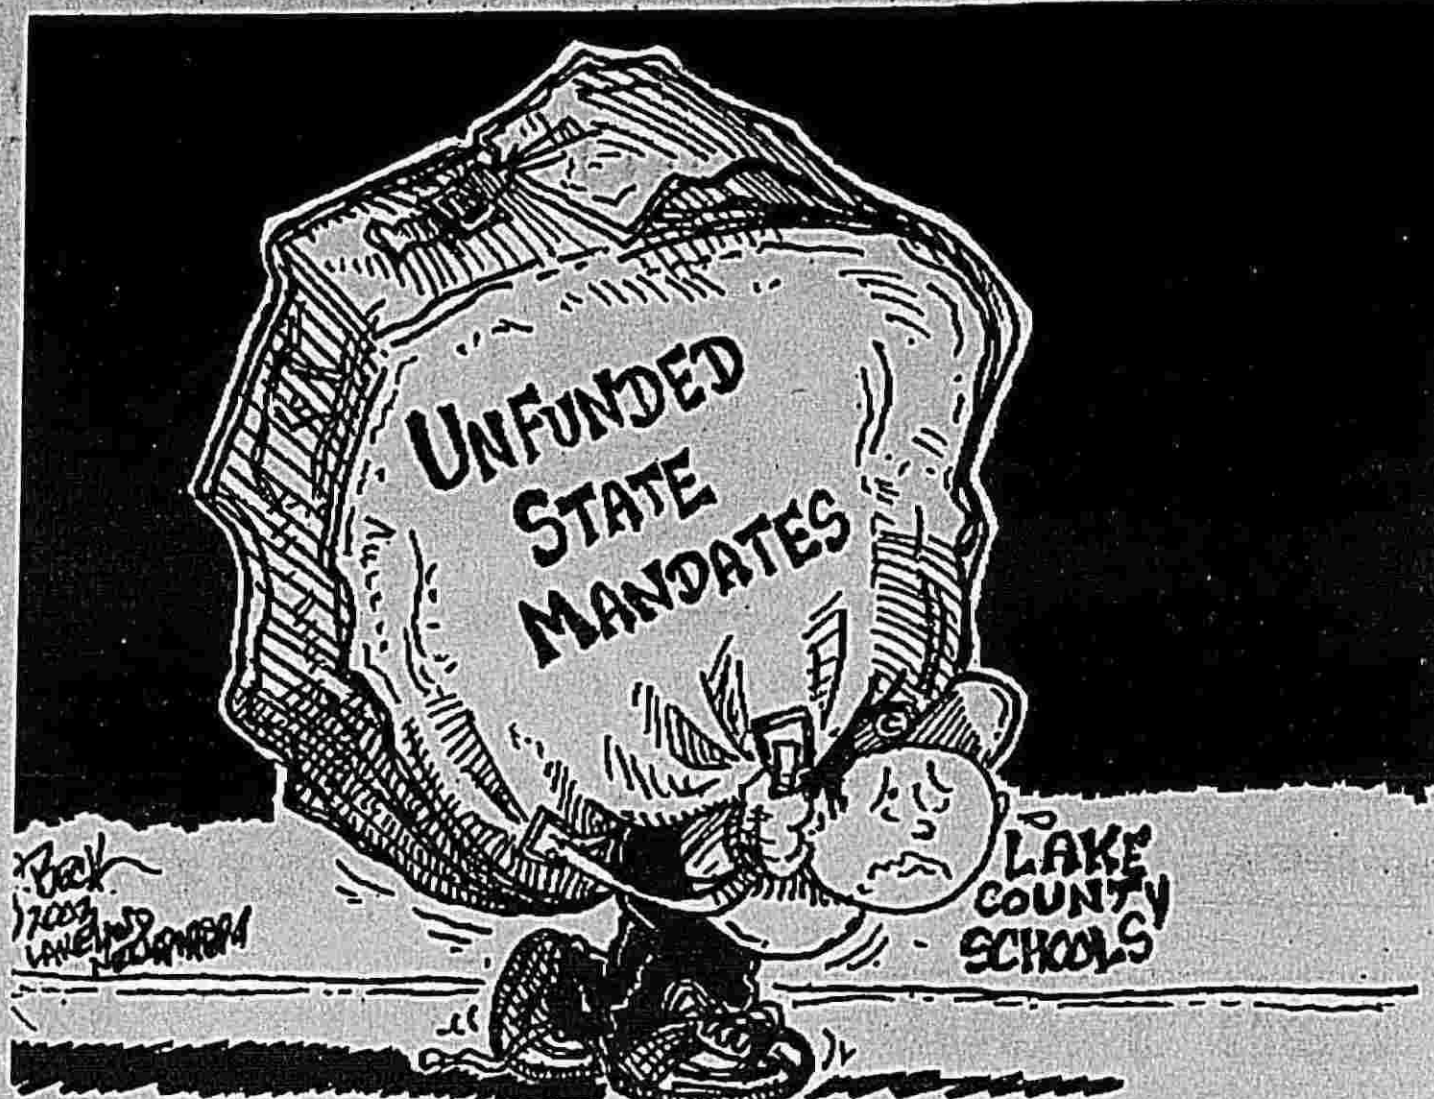

Griffin's defeat had nothing to do with disservice to the college. He was caught in a crossfire of name confusion and the misfortune of a bad ballot position. A newcomer to CLC affairs, Robert Anderson, ran for a trusteeship. Enough voters mistook Anderson for Richard A. Anderson, a long-time CLC trustee with a distinguished record of public service, that the newcomer won.

First elected in 1996, Griffin served a term as chairman. Growing up in Antioch and currently a resident of Lake Forest, Griffin recently was appointed by Congressman Mark Kirk to his Education Advisory Committee to help write legislation for President Bush's education initiatives. Griffin is a former adjunct business faculty member at CLC. He currently is an adjunct faculty member at Lake Forest Graduate School of Management. His community involvement includes presidency of the Affordable Housing Corp. of Lake County, environmental organization membership and board member of the Lake County Boys and Girls Club.

With a total of 29 years service at CLC, Richard A. Anderson is on the ballot this year to return to one of three seats to be filled from a field of five candidates. Anderson has a law office in Grayslake. His tenure at CLC includes several terms as chairman. Richard Anderson also is known throughout Illinois for his involvement in community college leadership organizations. He supported establishing the multi-versity at the Grayslake campus and locating a fire station adjacent at CLC to improve safety.

Voters can right a wrong by returning Griffin to the CLC board. Griffin and Richard A. Anderson are endorsed.

Rounding out the candidates for CLC trustee are two incumbents, original board member James Lumber, a Round Lake attorney, and Patricia Jones, Waukegan Township supervisor, and Cheryl Doros, a former Grayslake village trustee.

VIEWPOINT

Skeptics impair mission of U.S.

What makes the shrill cries of peaceniks and opponents of President Bush so unsettling is the universal agreement that war is horrible and should be avoided at all cost?

But at what cost? Deciding the price of peace and determining the level of sacrifice to provide safety and protect freedom has divided our nation, not in equal parts, perhaps, but separates families and friends today, driving a wedge when circumstances call for unity.

Americans who unflinchingly support war with Iraq indicate an understanding that civilization is being challenged, that freedom is under assault. They have listened and learned that terrorism knows no borders. Radical Muslim elements are lashing out at both who we are and what we stand for.

They comprehend that there is hatred of America. They appreciate the strategy of preemptive war. They are confident in the Bush leadership team. They have studied and reached the conclusion that war against Saddam Hussein has moral justification. They are aware that the lessons of history show that unchecked despotism leads to greater conflict with loss of life and suffering.

Confronted with a dictator willing and able to unleash weapons of mass destruction both militarily and deliver to terrorists, anti-war protestors, liberals and partisan Democrats have advanced weak arguments to avoid armed conflict. Opposition forces argue that war is "only about oil" or a reckless presidential son out for retribution. A dollar and cents price tag is hung on the question of preserving freedom at home and enhancing freedom for deserving nations. Opponents of the president insist that the war is a diversion to cloud budget deficits and tax policies designed to benefit the wealthy.

Consider that men and women in uniform and their loving families at home aren't concerned about price tags and oil supplies. They give no brook to partisanship and political strategies when lives of sons and daughters are being put on the line for preservation of a way of life that includes, ironically, the opportunity to question and oppose war.

With tearful pride, a majority of Americans are supporting with their hearts and their souls the U.S. military and its mission. How fortunate we are to be living in this great country. What will it take for the disbelievers to change their minds?

People speaking

A successful meeting in Libertyville reinforced the belief of Illinois Republican Party Chair Judy Barr Topinka that a series of 10 task force sessions around the state will provide vital input for reviving the GOP. Interested Republicans spoke out at a gathering at Lamb's Farm Country Inn. Topinka, who is the highest ranking Republican in state government as state treasurer, wants to use the soundings for organizing victory in 2004.

Back the 'Coasties'

Lake County residents can salute the "Coasties" and enjoy a lively outdoor barbecue during four cook outs this summer at Waukegan Airport. Members of the U.S. Coast Guard detachment from Traverse City, Mich., spend rotating two-week tours at Waukegan during the height of the Lake Michigan boating season. Cook out dates are May 31, July 5, Aug. 2 and Aug. 30. There is a $10 charge for adults, otherwise it's an open invitation to get acquainted with the U.S. Coast Guardsmen who are happy to show off their equipment and tell what they do.

Honor our military-freedom's guardians

By Deborah Cederberg

COMMENTARY

Every night as I relax and watch TV in my den I glance at a photograph that means so much more to me now than it ever did before.

It is a photo of my father's ship landing on Omaha Beach during the Normandy invasion of World War II.

In the background of the photo is a ship that wasn't as lucky as my father's—it was sinking. Then I think, "How soon they forget—"

Thousands of young men trying to liberate the French people, not always understanding the big picture, simply under orders to help create a country free of tyrannical rule. The same thing was true of our American soldiers who helped free the Jews in Germany from the monster named Hitler. We helped those people for the greater good—for freedom, a gift we Americans have always taken for granted. Freedom has always been our basic right. How many lives were lost fighting for this basic right? Countless, but they fought and fought so that others could live in a free society.

As I hear people speak out against going to war with Iraq I wonder how they cannot remember Hitler and think that Saddam Hussein is any different.

He's infinitely more dangerous because he is obvious in his hatred of America, Jews, Israel, and basically anyone he disagrees with. He is now closer than ever to having the power to unleash untold destruction on all of us.

If we worked so hard during World War II to liberate the French and the Jews, why is it so different now to want to help Iraq's own people from tyranny. What if we'd said, "Hitler's never done anything to me" during World War II? Thank God no one did. Hitler needed to be destroyed. Hussein needs to be destroyed also. His people need to have a chance to live a life of free choices, free of fear.

This war is not about liking President Bush or not liking Bill Clinton. It's about basic truths, basic rights of a free society. It is about our own citizens against weapons designed to destroy us.

Even if you are against going into Iraq, please give our military all of the support you can. They are fighting for freedom and their lives are on the line for all of us. Let them know how proud you are and that freedom can only be won from dictators by standing together.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Incoming mayor to fill vacancy

Lincolnshire Trustee Brett Blomberg will be stepping into the mayor's office uncontested in the April 1 election.

In the middle of his third term, Blomberg will have the opportunity to consider as priority business appointment of a successor. Blomberg is in the middle of his third term.

Blomberg will succeed Mayor Barbara LaPiana, who chose not to seek reelection after serving three terms.

Lincolnshire will have the first male occupant of the mayor's chair in 20 years. Evelyn Cooper, an All State Insurance executive, preceded LaPiana.

Happy birthday

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) celebrated her 85th birthday in her usual manner, working hard at representing the 31st Senatorial District, the northern third of Lake County. Geo-Karis has a new bill to protect the rights of consumers building a new home that was prompted by 55 local home buyers losing their security deposits when the contractor went bankrupt. The Geo-Karis bill would require a contractor to hold deposits, earnest money and other pre-paid expenses in a federally-insured interest bearing account. Many happy returns Geo.

Ryback outnumbered

Glenn Ryback, a nine and a half-year trustee with the village of Wadsworth is seeking one of the three trustee positions in the April 1 election. Ryback is the only incumbent running for one of the positions and the only male. Current Village Clerk Lynn Schlosser, current plan commission member Mary Carmovoy and newcomer Debbie Sturgeon will also be vying for one of the spots.

Messy situation

Despite constant wrangling since the election of Mayor Bette Thomas two years ago, North Chicago is conducting an election April 1 to fill three aldermanic seats with five candidates in the race. With 42 years of city service as a policeman and council member, Ald. Ernest Fisher sees city operations as an all-time "mess."

Labor debate

Gov. Blagojevich's intention to make Michael F. Fenger Illinois director of Labor has rekindled right-to-work debate. Fenger pled guilty and was fined for acts of violence against a non-union contractor in a 1997 case.

Geo-Karis: Wants to give birthday gift to consumers.

Ryback: Male-man role fits incumbent in trustee race.

Taste of victory

Unless a massive write-in campaign develops, Steve Skinner, unsuccessful candidate for state representative last November, will get a taste of victory in the election April 1 for Round Lake Library trustee. There are four candidates running for four seats. Skinner, appointed a library trustee two years ago, ran for the General Assembly as a Democrat.

Fagan praised

New Antioch Police Chief Chuck Fagan is getting plaudits from officials of Antioch High School for his handling of a touchy locker search initiative. The question was not whether there should be checking for drugs, but which jurisdiction would be in charge.

Lots of Sullivan

With his father running for re-election as a Mundelein village trustee, State Rep. Ed Sullivan Jr. (R-Mundelein) notes that there's been a Sullivan on the ballot for eight consecutive elections. Sullivan Jr. also is assessor of Fremont Township.

Name confusion

Another "same name" question is providing a baffling note in the Lake Villa Community Consolidated School Board election where Joanne H. Osmond is a candidate. Not to be confused with State Rep. JoAnn D. Osmond (R-Antioch). With both Osmonds in public life, there always is explaining to do.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No kids rights

In response to an article regarding "Drug Dogs to sniff school," the Antioch High School board's decision to have searches at the discretion of the school administration and limited to specific areas of the school after school hours is the most ridiculous thing I have ever heard of.

I am so angry at this school board, it makes me sick. What have they got to hide? Maybe they should sniff Supt. Hockney's office? It is a common fact that there are drug dealings going on at the school.

I am a tax paying citizen. I am paying taxes for five elementary schools and two high schools. When it comes to the right of the children, until they start paying taxes to support schools they have no rights. At least District 41 has brains enough to allow drug searches unlike District 117.

I hope the parents of District 117 remember this when it comes to elections. I will

Density downfall

Has the irony of certain letters to the editor of late struck anyone else? On the one hand, writers are urging voters in Wauconda to cast their vote for incumbents of the Liberty Party, citing their "experience." On the other hand, there frequently are letters urging voters to vote no in referendums for surrounding school districts.

The irony is that the "experienced" Wauconda village board members are the ones that have allowed the incredibly dense development at the north end of town. Dense development is a major contributor to overcrowded schools. The solution to overcrowded schools is a referendum necessary to alleviate increased enrollment. So if Wauconda voters decide to vote for the village board incumbents, I hope they will also be ready to vote yes on the many school referendums that are most certainly in our future.

Do yourself and the rest of us a favor. Vote out of office the ones that are causing our problems.

*Robert C. Mudd

Back more taxes

We are writing in support of Fremont School District 79's tax proposal. As senior citizens, we are tired of hearing, "I don't have any children in school, so why should I vote for it?" When our daughter was in school—and even when we were in school—the people in our community felt it was their responsibility to educate all our children, not just their own.

Now, it is our turn to step up to the plate and do the same. Fremont has pared expenses to the bone in the past few years, and has one of the lowest spending rates per pupil of any school district in the area. They recently refinanced a bond issue, and are asking only that the savings from this be redirected to the education fund, with NO increase in our current overall tax rate. If the welfare of "our" children and grandchildren isn't reason enough, the boost to property values that a good school system provides should also enter into your decision. Please join us in voting "yes" for Fremont Schools on April 1.

Stop the bashing

I am proud to say I'm a teacher. How many occupations get to nurture young minds on a daily basis? Has this profession made me a better human being? How could it not? I have learned compassion, empathy, patience, teamwork, laughter, and most of all the love of the human spirit. I, as a teacher, act as a role model, parent, friend, confidant, ally, motivator, and advocate day in and day out. Children in my class depend upon me for all of these qualities. It doesn't matter if I am having a bad day because "my kids" expect me to be there for them and I am. How many occupations have this huge responsibility? I teach them the life skills they need in order to learn the academics of school. One of these days I want to count the number of interpersonal questions I answer everyday, some seemingly unimportant to me, but who am I to decide what is unimportant to a child?

Teachers impact children's lives and help them become responsible citizens of the world. Without caring teachers what would this world be like? Some children come to us without their basic daily needs being met.

Maybe they need a lunch, a pencil, a pat on the back, a smile, or a safe haven from an upset home life. We do this on a daily basis and don't ask for any credit.

We also help them through tragedies in their own lives. How do you explain to a child the death of a loved one or a classmate? I know that I was never taught how to do this in college. But once again teachers jump right in and deal with it. Unlike the business world where you get rid of the ones that don't do their work or don't "fit in", we keep these kids in our classes. We make them feel good about themselves and figure out a way for them to know that they are important while they learn and do their work.

But time and again I hear, "Teachers are overpaid and they only work 180 days." Shame on anyone who has ever muttered those words. They obviously don't have a clue as to what goes on in a classroom for the 180 days that we have those precious minds and spirits to care for. What profession could be more important than teaching? I for one feel privileged to be a teacher.

So the next time you may feel that teachers in your district are overpaid and underworked, I challenge you to spend time in a classroom for one day and actually see what goes on. Then multiply that by 180 days and by 25 students. Maybe then the teaching profession will receive the respect it deserves yet rarely gets.

Students need support

Time has run out. Our children are being denied the education they deserve to become the leaders and caretakers of tomorrow. We, as a society, must protect the best interests of our children and do everything to ensure the brightest possible future for everyone.

In the April 1 election, children in nearly 100 school districts from across the state and in your area are counting on your support. The children have done nothing wrong and have no say in how their schools are run or who serves in the General Assembly.

Though we are facing uncertain times in Illinois and around the world, quality education is the key to protect our freedom and strengthen our country.

Whether you're retired, run a business, have children in school or farm the heartland, I encourage every adult in the State of Illinois to exercise their civic responsibility to support our children.

Ronald J. Gidwitz President, Founder Students First

Question tactics

State Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-Wauconda) is among the co-sponsors of HB 60, a bill that would allow illegal aliens to pay in-state tuition rates while attending colleges and universities in Illinois. This raises the following questions:

Wasn't Beaubien elected to represent the interests of his constituents and not those of the Mexican government?

Why are Illinois taxpayers, who have already given illegal aliens 12 years of "free" public school education, now being asked to foot the bill for a college education?

Why should the children of American citizens living in other states, who want to study in Illinois, have to pay substantially higher tuition than those living here illegally?

Will Beaubien and his cohorts soon rise in anger on the floor of the Illinois House of Representatives and demand to know why, according to the Advisory Committee on Student Financial Assistance, more than four million qualified American students will be unable to attend college in this decade because of prohibitive costs?

This bill is not about higher education but about doing what is politically expedient, which, in this case, means forcing Illinois residents to underwrite Mexico's overt campaign to subvert our immigration laws.

Hear those laughs from Hall of Fame?

The headline in the daily newspaper said, "Bob Uecker selected for baseball Hall of Fame."

What? That clown of a catcher? A weak stick whose lifetime batting average was a pathetic .200? In the Hall of Fame with the likes of Babe Ruth, Joe DiMaggio, Willie Mays and Henry Aaron?

We had to read the story to learn that Uecker will be enshrined in the broadcasters' wing, not the players' hall, in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Okay, that figures. He has enjoyed an immensely popular career as a broadcaster and personality, using his own shortcomings as the basis for his self-deprecating humor.

He has appeared in a popular series of beer commercials, landed movie and television-sitcom roles and wrote a humorous autobiography, "Catcher in the Wry."

He is a lively after-dinner speaker and made numerous appearances on the "Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson.

Uecker toiled in the minor leagues in the 1950s and played in the majors from 1962-1967, catching for the old Milwaukee Braves, Atlanta Braves, St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies. He was respected for his defensive play and rifle arm.

In his book, Uecker quotes Milwaukee pitcher Lew Burdette as telling him, "Don't be coming out here to the mound. I don't want you out here. The only thing you know about pitching is that you can't hit it."

Uecker says, "My reaction was to go back behind the plate and tell the hitter what pitches were coming."

(That scenario was used humorously by Kevin Costner in the hit baseball movie, "Bull Durham.")

Now a broadcaster for the Milwaukee Brewers, Uecker says: "The fans haven't forgotten me. I go to the Old-Timers' games and know I haven't lost a thing. I sit in the bullpen and people throw garbage at me, just like in the old days."

THE PFARR CORNER

Another favorite Uecker quote is this one: "The biggest thrill a ballplayer can have is when your son takes after you. That happened when my Bobby was in his championship Little League game. He really showed me something. Struck out three times. Made an error that lost the game. Parents were throwing things at our car and swearing as we drove off. Gosh, I was proud."

In Milwaukee, where Uecker grew up and now broadcasts, they sell "Uecker Seats," high in the upper deck and obstructed. They go for $1.

Other Uecker-isms: "I led the league in 'Go get 'em next time.'" "I knew my career was over when my baseball card came out with no picture."

"When I came up to bat with three men on and two outs in the ninth, I looked in the other team's dugout and they already were in street clothes."

The Milwaukee Braves signed Uecker in the 1950s for a $3,000 bonus. "For the signing ceremony," he says, "the Braves' officials took my dad and me to one of Milwaukee's swankiest restaurants. My dad was so nervous he rolled down the window and the hamburgers fell off the tray."

When Uecker started his first game in his hometown of Milwaukee he says, "My folks, friends and old schoolmates were there cheering."

"Our manager hollered, 'Kid, you're doing good, except that up here in the big leagues most of us wear our athletic supporters on the inside of our uniforms.'"

View ballots online

Voters can visit the Lake County Clerk's web page, at www.co.lake.il.us/cntyck, to access a preview of their Election Day ballot. Clicking on "What's on My Ballot for the April 1, 2003 Consolidated Election?" The user is prompted to key in their address of registration to view their specific ballot.

Absentee ballots

Applications for an absentee ballot for the April 1 consolidated election are now available at the Lake County Clerk's office, municipal and township offices.

Eligible voters may vote in person at the clerk's office through March 31 in Room 101 of the County Building at 18 N. County Street, Waukegan.

Voters may now vote by absentee ballot at municipal and township offices as well.

A registered voter may also vote an absentee ballot through mail or by e-mailing absentee@co.lake.il.us, on the County Clerk's web site at www.co.lake.il.us/cntyck and clicking on "Request An Absentee Ballot Application," or by calling the clerk's office at 847-377-2406.

Baxter grant helps open new clinic

The Baxter International Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Baxter International Inc., has awarded a $31,000 grant to HealthReach in Waukegan, which is the only free medical clinic in Lake County.

The money will enable HealthReach to establish a second clinic site in collaboration with a small social service agency in Mundelein called La Puerta Abierta (the open door). The new clinic will serve an unmet need for free medical care in the western portion of Lake County. For information about volunteering at Health Reach, call 847-360-8800.

Farm Bureau internship

The Lake County Farm Bureau is seeking applicants to fill a public relations/marketing summer internship within the Farm Bureau.

Applicants should be pursuing an undergraduate degree in public relations, marketing, agribusiness or related field. Computer skills required, good writing skills, people skills and good communication skills required.

Intern will be able to earn credit through their respective University or Jr. College, if offered. This internship is unpaid (intern will receive a $600 scholarship to be used for purchasing textbooks for school or paying for class credit) and requires between 20-25 hours of work per week May-August.

Interested individuals should visit WWW.LCFB.COM or contact Gregory Koeppen, Public Information Director at 847-223-6506 or e-mail GKOEPPEN@AMERITECH.NET for more information and to obtain an application and detailed job description. Applications are due at the Lake County Farm Bureau office by 4 p.m., March 31. Interviews will be conducted during winter and spring breaks.

Health care scholarships

The Lake Forest Hospital Women's Auxiliary is accepting applications for its annual scholarship program. Since 1952, the Women's Board has awarded scholarships to students interested in pursuing careers in health care or professionals continuing their education in a health-care field. The scholarships are named in honor of A.B. Dick Jr., whose family donated the land on which Lake Forest Hospital was built. They range from $500-$2,000 per year and are available to any resident of the area served by the hospital. Those considered for the A.B. Dick Jr. Scholarships also may be selected for the Marion Warner Hodgkins Scholarship award of up to $5,000. The $5,000 scholarship is named for the first president of Lake Forest Hospital's Women's Board, who also volunteered for more than 50 years at the hospital. For further information call Cheri Forster at 847-535-6930.

N. Chicago seeks fed's assistance

The City of North Chicago is requesting $1.6 million in federal Brownfield assistance from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for the clean up various sites in the Sheridan Road Redevelopment District.

One million dollars will be set aside to create a revolving loan program to assist private property owners address environmental contamination.

The remaining funding will be used to remove underground fuel oil tanks and contaminated soil at 1811 Sheridan Road, the site of the former First Midwest Bank, and the adjacent 1801-1809 Sheridan Road; 2128/2130 Sheridan Road, home to the now defunct Mary's Navy Cleaners; and the public alley Right of Way behind the 2100 block of Sheridan Road, which has seen illegal dumping of dry-cleaning fluids from several adjacent properties.

CASA needs volunteers

Volunteers are being sought by the Lake County Court Appointed Special Advocates organization to serve as advocates for abused and neglected children and fact finders for Lake County Juvenile Court judges.

Terri Zenner Greenberg, executive director of CASA, said there are approximately 200 volunteers, but there are always 250-400 defenseless children assigned to CASA by the judges where there are no available volunteers.

She said the volunteers are trained to work with judges and the abused children. The last session takes place in the Juvenile Court. Greenberg said the volunteer advocates are a powerful voice in the life of these young children who range in age from a few months to the late teens.

To learn how to become a volunteer advocate to make a difference in the life of a child, call CASA at 847-808-9154.

Board of Health appointees

The Lake County Board has appointed two new members to the Lake County Board of Health. The members are Stephen E. Carlson of Gurnee and Carol Spielman of Highland Park. They replace former members John Schullen and Loretta McCarley. The Board of Health oversees the programs and services of the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center.

Educator of the year award

The Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) of Lake County celebrates excellence in environmental education. The "Educator of the Year" award recognizes educators who make a significant impact toward improving the environment through education in Lake County.

Who is eligible?

Both traditional and nontraditional educators are eligible. Traditional educators are those teaching at public or private schools at any grade level. Nontraditional educators are those working with youth or adult organizations. An example of a nontraditional educator would be a scout leader. Schools and organizations must be located in Lake County. Individual nominees do not have to live in Lake County to be eligible of the award.

The deadline to send the applications is April 1. The award will be presented at the end of the school year in May. Please send your nominations to the SWCD office, located at 100 N. Atkinson Rd., Suite 102-A, Grayslake, IL 60030. Any questions or concerns should be directed to Mea Blauer at 847-223-1056 or meablauer@sbcglobal.net.

Key link to regional trail is proposed by county

A key link in the new Millennium Trail was proposed by the Lake County Forest Preserves' Land Preservation and Acquisition Committee at their March 13 meeting. An intergovernmental agreement with the Grayslake Community High School District 127 for the purchase of 18 acres for $500,000 was approved as part of the Lake County Forest Preserves' 35-mile Millennium Trail through central, western and northern Lake County.

The property is located south of the intersection of Hook Drive and Rollins Road and is adjacent to the ComEd right of way, which will link this new purchase with the 1,225-acre Rollins Savanna Forest Preserve near Grayslake. A signalized road crossing at the intersection of Hook Drive and Rollins Road is planned and would offer trail users safe passage onto the new purchase and eventually into Rollins Savanna.

The first length of the new Millennium Trail opened last fall from Countryside Golf Course near Mundelein to Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. Planning is underway for the second section from Lakewood north to near Singing Hills Forest Preserve near Volo.

"This cooperative agreement is an excellent example of how the Lake County Forest Preserve District is striving to build innovative partnerships that provide additional programs and services to the community," stated Bonnie Thomson Carter, Lake County Forest Preserve President.

"Through this trail link, the School District would be able to access Rollins Savanna, Lake County's second largest Forest Preserve, and use the land as an outdoor classroom," added Sandy Cole, Forest Preserve Commissioner for Grayslake and member of the Land Preservation and Acquisition Committee.

The 18-acre proposed land buy also contains a unique oak forest of mainly bur oaks. Their large size and dense concentration within such a small area is uncommon. A small wetland extends east to west on the site and contains mainly black willow and cottonwood trees. Invasive species such as cattails, reed canary grass and purple loosestrife have degraded the wetland. With proper land management, the oak forest and the wetland could be revitalized.

The Lake County Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners will now consider purchase of the property at their Friday, March 21 meeting. If approved, the 18-acre parcel would increase the total number of acquisitions made using funds from the successful, voter-approved November 2000 referendum to 24, and the total acres of Forest Preserves in Lake County to 24,440 acres.

The proposed purchase meets many of the land acquisition goals set forward in successful Forest Preserve bond referenda to protect valuable natural resources, provide recreational opportunities, flood control protection, and expand existing preserves.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

AREA ATHLETES MAKING THE GRADE

Former Bulldog Bosworth stands out for Elmhurst

Wayne Bosworth, Grant High's all-time leading scorer, completed his second season at Elmhurst College as one of the team's leaders.

The Bluejays were 11-14 overall, 6-8 College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin.

Bosworth started in all 25 games, averaging 17.2 points per game. He was the team's leading scorer in more than half, 13, of the games. He was named second-team all-CCIW.

Bosworth scored 1,826 points in four years of varsity play at Grant. He has continued as a three-point shooter in college, hitting 50 percent from treys. He made 85.4 percent of his free throws.

"He has grown tremendously as a player. He was a role player his freshman year at University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, and fit it very quickly at Elmhurst," said Tom Maple, former Grant coach.

After scorching Illinois Wesleyan in the first meeting, Bosworth was the subject of most of the attention of Wesleyan in the second meeting, when IW won the CCIW and a bid to the NCAA Division III tournament. Illinois Wesleyan won 73-65 as Bosworth scored 7 points and had four rebounds and two assists.

Bosworth has one more year left at Elmhurst.

He was named CCIW Player of the Week on three different occasions during the winter. As a team, Elmhurst finished 11-14 overall and 6-8 in the conference.

The proud son of Cliff and Corie Bosworth of Ingleside, Wayne was a three-time All-County honoree while becoming Grant High's all-time leading scorer. He earned All-State honors his senior year.

The Bluejays varsity and JV teams also includes Chris Ihlenfeldt, a Warren High graduate.—Steve Peterson

Other regional news, notes

Augustana College Men's basketball

Former Carmel Corsair and Illinois' 'King of the Hill' Joe Baumann started five games recently for the Viking basketball team. The small forward was the team's fourth leading scorer with nearly eight points per game. Unfortunately, Baumann suffered an infected knee due to a floor burn and was sidelined for the CCIW title clash with North park University.

Former Lake Zurich big man Shaun

Clements was also a regular starter for the Vikings most of the season. Misfortunes also set in on the 6-foot, 8-inch center, who suffered a season-ending knee injury in a win over Elmhurst in February. Clements was second on the team in scoring, averaging close to 14 points per game. He was also pulling down a team-leading seven boards per contest.

For the season, Clements wound up ninth in the CCIW in rebounding while Baumann was third in free-throw percentage at .853 (29-for-34).

The Vikings finished the season 20-5 overall while clinching its first conference title in 10 years. They shared the league crown with defending champ Carthage College.

Men's track and field

Former Waukegan grad and Lindenhurst native Brandon Vahl finished fifth in the CCIW Championships with a time of 1:56.14. For the indoor season, Vahl shares team-best times in the 1,600 (3:26.30) and distance medley relay (10:18.32). Jeff Lindeman (Grayslake, Antioch H.S.) is tops on the team thus far with a season-best leap of 15-feet, 9-inches in the pole vault. Carmel grad and Wauconda native Andy Konicek shares top honors in the sprint medley relay (3:44.03).

Elmhurst College Track and field

Former Wauconda High School standout and Island Lake native John Hartmann took second-place honors in the high jump at the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin Championships over the weekend. Hartmann's best leap was 6-feet, 5-and-one-half inches. Hartmann then turned in a season-best performance in winning the high jump at the Chicagoland Championships. Hartmann's leap of 6-feet, seven-and-one-half inches was good for first place.

As a team, the Bluejays finished fourth with 48 points.

Baseball

McHenry native and former Wauconda High standout baseball player Ken Shipbaugh is back for his junior season on the diamond.

The 6-foot, 1-inch two-time letter-winner will play second base. Last season, he earned All-Academic honors and will serve as the teams' co-captain this spring. Shipbaugh, an interdisciplinary communication and english double major, is also the sports editor of the school newspaper, The Leader.

While at Wauconda High, he was a four-year letter-winner in not only baseball, but football as well. He also lettered one year in basketball. In baseball, he was an all-area and all-academic honoree as a junior, and an all-area honorable mention as a senior.

The Bluejays open the season when they host Augustana College in double-header action March 30. The first pitch will be thrown at 1 p.m.

Shipbaugh is the proud son of Robert and Maureen Shipbaugh of McHenry.

Elmhurst plays its home games at Butterfield Park in Elmhurst.

Women's basketball

Former Mundelein Mustang standout hoops' player Ashley Stein led the Bluejay women's basketball team with 12 points during a mid-season game against Millikin University. The next game, Stein, an All-Lakeland Player last winter while at MHS, then chipped in 11 points in the game against Illinois Wesleyan.

Northern Illinois University Women's track and field

North Chicago graduate and Gurnee native, freshman Erica

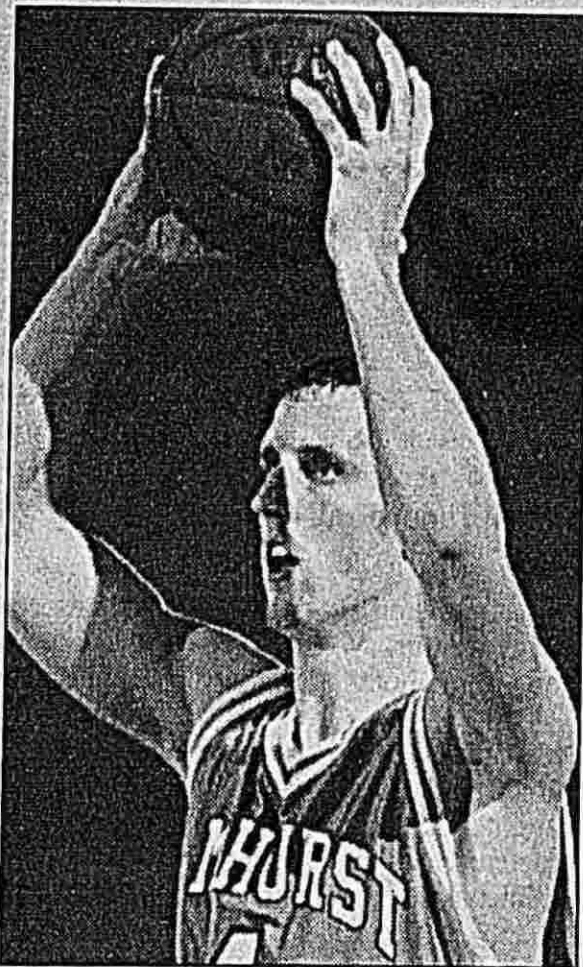

Smith, competed for the first time in the 55-meter dash at the Chicagoland Championships. Not bad—Smith posted a time of 7.32 seconds in finishing fourth. Incidentally, Smith joined Lorene Skipper, Ajahnae Hinley and April Lowery in setting a new school-record of 3 minutes, 51.67 seconds in the 1,600-meter relay.

University of North Carolina-Asheville Men's track and field

Former Carmel grad Phil Latter set two school records during the past indoor season. In the 3,000-meter run, he posted a time of 8:32. Then, in the 5,000-meter run, he clocked in at 14:58.64. Latter's time in the 3,000-meter run was nine seconds better than the previous school record.

University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Men's track and field

Former Antioch High track standout Paul Arnold (Antioch) finished third in the pole vault at the Warhawks' Karl Schlender Open last weekend.

Skyhawk boys hoops does Johnsburg proud

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The small sign next to the larger one in big blue letters of "Skyhawk Territory" summed it up best: "We're from Johnsburg - couldn't be prouder."

Although Glenbrook North gave the Skyhawks some of their own medicine in terms of stifling defense, the memories of the 30-2 campaign for the McHenry County school will not be soon forgotten. The Skyhawks have the distinction of being the smallest school to be playing in the Elite Eight and the first to make it to Peoria from McHenry County since the tournament was shifted from Champaign.

"Defensively, we held them to 47 points, so we did the job on that end. We just could not get anything going offensively. Defense was not our problem; offense was. Glenbrook is a very good team. They controlled themselves well," said JHS Coach Ed Sennett.

"We had a great year. I am so proud of this team," Sennett said.

JHS standout John Smith, 6-foot, 8-inch center, was the focus of the Spartans defense. Although Brad Preston hit a trey for a momentary 3-0 JHS lead, it was the only points of the first quarter.

"It has been a great experience for our players, our fans and for our community. We're proud of the fact that we're the first team from McHenry County to make it here. We're proud of our record at 30-2. They were a good, physical team that we played. They went after every loose ball and got most of them."

"We got some good looks, but we could not hit them. It was our worst game of all," said senior Shane Neiss. "We all hang out together. It's more of a family and the whole community has been behind us."

"They were just more physical. We could not get in a groove. They were ready for us," said Smith, who has a busy month ahead of selecting between college interest from Northwestern, Northern Illinois, Indiana State and Bradley, or others.

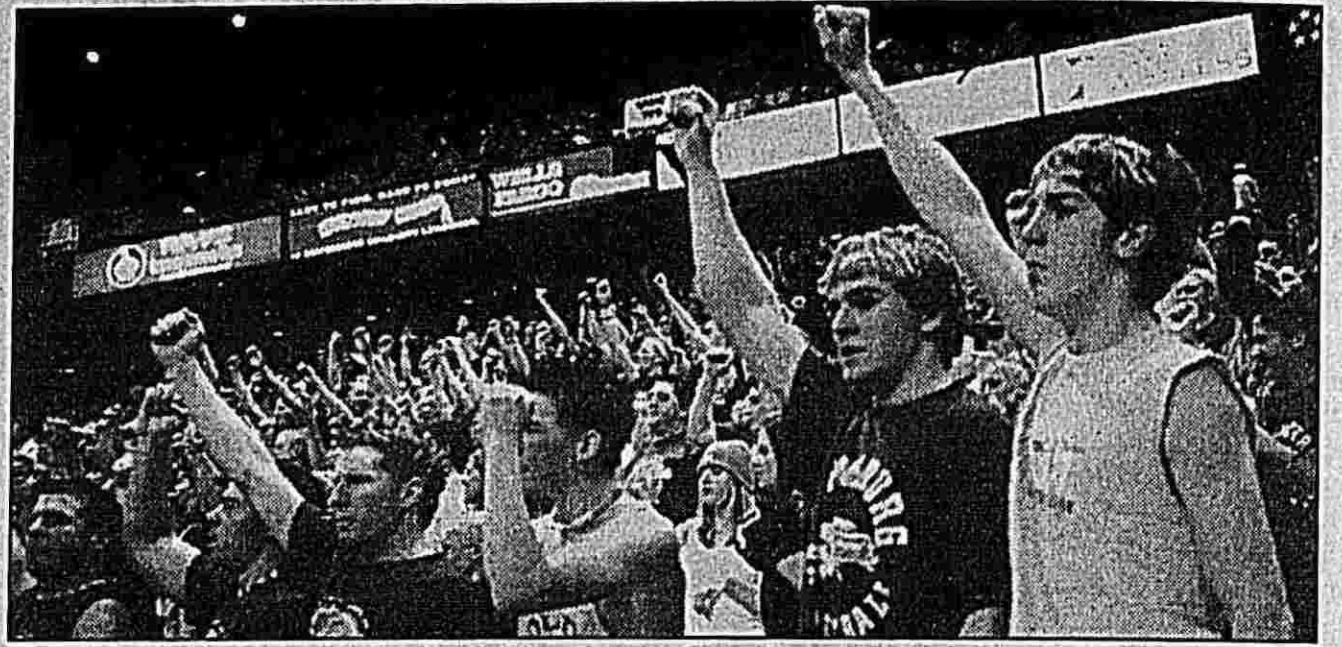

Smith, who averaged 20 ppg for the Skyhawks, was named third team IBCHA All-State.

Smith finished as the Skyhawks leading scorer with 6 points and had 11 rebounds. Junior George Salminen added 5 points and 3 rebounds. At the other end, Eytan Azsaria was unstoppable, with 27 points. The next highest scorer had 6.

Johnsburg "sea of Blue"-clad fans will not remember the detail of the lowest score in Elite Eight modern history, but rather the hardware the team collected, from winning their own tournament, to the Jacobs Christmas tournament title, to regional titles by 30 points in two games and great games at Rockford, and the super-sectional win, 51-22, over East Moline United.

"The team brought a lot of pride back to the community," said athletic director Jim Meyers.

Johnsburg fans rejoice after their Skyhawks score a basket against Glenbrook North during the IHSA State quarterfinals held in Peoria. Johnsburg, the smallest Class AA school in the tournament with a shade under 800 students, finished a respectable eighth-place. Their record this season was 30-2 overall.— Photos by Steve Peterson Benton at the Loyola Super-sectional, suffered a heart-breaking loss in the semifinal Saturday morning, losing to Thornwood on a three-point shot.

"I thought we played very well. Anytime you can get it going early, and hitting those shots. Johnsburg is a great team. We caught them on a night that we did some things defensively that slowed them down. We made it difficult to score inside. Our kids executed the game plan really well. They have been listening well lately," said Spartans coach David Weber.

The Spartans had somewhat of a Cinderella story themselves, coming in with 8 losses.

All the Skyhawks had a chance to play at Carver Arena before the big crowd. Reserve Joe Saunders, a senior, supplied the final points, a three-pointer.

Immunization Clinics Held For Children

The Lake County Health Department and Community Health Center, in conjunction with the Lake County Community Health Partnership, offers immunization clinics for Lake County children.

Childhood immunization clinics will be held at the following locations and times. A parent or guardian must accompany all children: Lake County Health Department, Belvidere Medical Building Annex, 2303 Dodge Avenue, Waukegan. Monday through Friday, 1-3 p.m. Phone: 847-377-8470. At the clinics, children can be immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (D.P.T.), measles, mumps, rubella (German measles), and Haemophilus influenza, type B(H.I.B.). The cost of an immunization is $8. However, no one is denied services due to inability to pay. Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from a school nurse, it should also be brought to the clinic. For information, call the Lake County Health Department Immunization Program at 847-377-8470.

Is television news overload too much for kids?

Dr. Singer,

My husband constantly has news coverage of the war on our t.v. Of course, with 24 hour news networks it makes it very possible. He claims that it's because he needs to stay informed about what is going on and he feels he supports our troops this way. While I do agree with staying informed, I am having a problem with what he is doing because he has it on even when our kids are around. Our kids are 8 and 10 and both very scared right now. I want them to be protected from this information. If something bad is going to happen, I would rather have them having fun and being normal right before it, rather than being glued to a t.v. frightened out of their wits. My husband feels that they should know about the war because it is their freedom the soldiers are out there fighting for and he feels our kids should know this and feel it at some level. I'm afraid our kids are going to have lasting problems from this but my husband won't listen to me. Maybe he'll listen to you. What do you think? N.L.

Hi N.L.,

This is somewhat tough for me because I think that both of you have good points. My heartfelt inclination is to tell you to protect your kids from this because it is very scary and at 8 and 10, they may have a very hard time with it for a long time to come. For kids it is especially tough because there is no guarantee of what we will or won't see on the news coverage. Since they are right there with the soldiers, anything goes. I think they have some sort of a delay on the coverage so if there was something that was not suitable for a general audience, they would have control of that. I may be wrong about that though.

PARENT'S PLACE

The other part of my heart feels intensely guilty every time I turn off the news covering the troops. I think, all the time, about what they and their families must be going through right now while I have the choice to turn the war on or off. So, I do keep it on for periods of time for the purpose of support and to keep them on my mind. I will say the same thing I did right after 911. I think it is o.k. for others to know the hardship and empathize with these people sacrificing of their own lives. Yes, it is terribly scary for everyone, but I think that people can stay informed and be supportive without becoming completely immersed or overwhelmed by it.

You might ask your husband to watch in another room if he wants to watch the t.v. non-stop and maybe have the kids just watch portions or small amounts. I think it is extremely important for younger generations to know what this war is about so it doesn't ever get repeated. "Those who forget are doomed to repeat." A very wise saying that suggests that we need to keep the truth, as ugly as it is, alive and fresh so that future generations don't make the same mistakes. Since our kids are the next generation, they need to understand.

Regarding their fears, I think it will be very important for you to make sure to talk this out with them. Make them feel as safe as you can and be sure they get to ask questions and dialogue this out. It may not calm their fears, but it will help them to cope with them.

Don't get too mad at your husband. He does have some good points. He may be obsessing a bit though, if he is in front of the t.v. all the time. He needs to have a break from it at times too. Let him know that: His support for the troops does not have to fade just because he isn't in front of the t.v.

In the meantime, let's all pray for our troops, our country and people and our families!

The third pulse of the body—the breath of life

As I lay on the table with the doctor positioned on a chair in back of me, his hands ever so slightly manipulating the sides and back of my head, I thought I had now sunk to the lowest depths of my life. This was my first visit to Dane Shepherd, Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine (D.O.), who had been highly recommended by a friend. I was hoping he would help eliminate my headaches and lower my genetically inherited, dangerously high blood pressure. All the treatment plans and medications that the other doctors prescribed, not only failed to help, but gave me some bad side effects.

Now, how could this strange treatment I never knew existed, help me? Out of despair, maybe just out of curiosity, I returned for subsequent appointments. After all, I had tried just about everything else. I felt I had nothing to lose, and besides, this new treatment made me feel good. When the doctor placed his gentle hands on my head and neck, what I experienced was a very relaxing sensation as though some kind of slow tidal motion was occurring inside of me.

After several weekly visits, my body began to feel better and my spirits lifted. My headaches dissipated, my feelings of fatigue were gone, and my blood pressure dropped. I was amazed at what seemed like magic. I needed to understand what he did.

I asked Dr. Shepherd a lot of questions and started reading everything I could find about this treatment called "cranial sacral" therapy which only a handful of medical professionals and cranial therapists are trained at doing.

I learned that not all osteopathic doctors practice this treatment method also referred to as cranial manipulation or cranial osteopathy. Furthermore, while there are those who have experienced positive results and regard this as divine healing, there are those in the medical profession who deny its scientific authenticity and regard it as medical quackery.

No doubt, you too will find what I'm telling you very strange. It is only because I personally feel that I have benefited from this, and because I know many others who claim its positive impact on their lives, that I want to make this form of holistic osteopathic medicine known. I will do my best within the confines of this column to acquaint the reader to the fundamental principals of cranial sacral treatment which began around the start of the 20th century.

William Garner Sutherland, a final-year student of osteopathy, made a startling discovery that was unlike what he had been taught. He had been taught that adult cranial bones do not move. Instead, through his self-devised experiments, he was convinced that not only did they move, but that they have some important physiological function.

Dr. Sutherland recognized that the motion of cranial bones is connected to other tissues with which they are closely associated in a membrane system. He also found out that the central nervous system and the cerebrospinal fluid that bathes it have a rhythmic motion. The inherent motion of this transparent, slightly yellowish fluid that passes within the moving sutures of our skull and throughout the spinal column to the sacrum

Eyecare centers take part in national campaign

The American Optometric Association (AOA) celebrates the 76th year of national 'Save Your Vision Month' this March. In conjunction with the association's three-year initiative, Healthy Eyes Healthy People, Save Your Vision Month is designed to draw attention to the correlation between eye health and general health. Many times by conducting a comprehensive eye examination, optometrists can be the first to see developing diseases and conditions through the eyes of their patients.

Of the 17 million Americans who have diabetes, nearly 6 million are unaware that they have the disease. However, early signs of diabetes can be diagnosed in a comprehensive eye examination. By detecting these symptoms early, an optometrist can inform patients, who can then seek treatment that may prevent eventual blindness from the disease.

The AOA is also targeting the 'Save Your Vision Month' message to individuals at high-risk for eye disease, African Americans (more than 1.7 times more likely to have diabetes and six to eight times more likely to have glaucoma), Hispanics/Latinos (more than two times more likely to have Type 2 diabetes), and seniors (with high incidents of cataracts, glaucoma, and age-related macular degeneration.) Dr. Doherty and his staff will observe 'Save Your Vision Month' by offering their regular $49 eye exam for only $29 for the rest of the month of March.

is largely responsible for our physical and emotional health.

In trying to discover the origins of these rhythms, Dr. Sutherland realized that there are no external muscles that are responsible for this rhythm. He concluded that this motion is produced by the body's inherent life-force itself, which he called the "Breath of Life". Our very existence, our being alive, and the state of our health are expressed in this motion, and it is that which determines life or death.

The skill of being able to use one's hands to make an accurate osteopathic diagnosis is called "palpation". What the person trained in the art of palpation is able to do is to detect a distinct third pulse of the body that is produced by this motion. This pulse has nothing to do with the heartbeat or the rate of respiration. It is felt as a distinct beat that has been scientifically measured and recorded at an average rate of between 8-12 cycles per minute.

Unlike the heartbeat or the breath rate, which can vary considerably, this pulse remains relatively stable. By placing the hands on and around the head and counting the number of beats per minute, some therapists propose that a person's emotional health can be determined. Those with a very slow beat may be suffering from depression. Other experts totally disagree with this concept, claiming the cranial rhythmic impulse can be as different for each individual as the differences between individuals.

What cranial sacral therapists believe is that irregularities or obstructions in the regular flow of cerebrospinal fluid can cause difficulties for specific parts of the body affected by this obstruction. The trained cranial sacral therapist will examine a patient for problems by putting one hand beneath the head while placing the other beneath the sacrum, just above the coccyx or tailbone. In this way he can feel the flow of cerebrospinal fluid and discover any obstructions.

Where you buy your pool or spa is as important as what you buy!

We can also help you with all aspects of the installation as well. We are very experienced in the proper way to install pools and spas. In fact, we have received the most portable spa Awards of Excellence from the Midwest Chapter of the National Spa & Pool Institute than any other company since 1999.

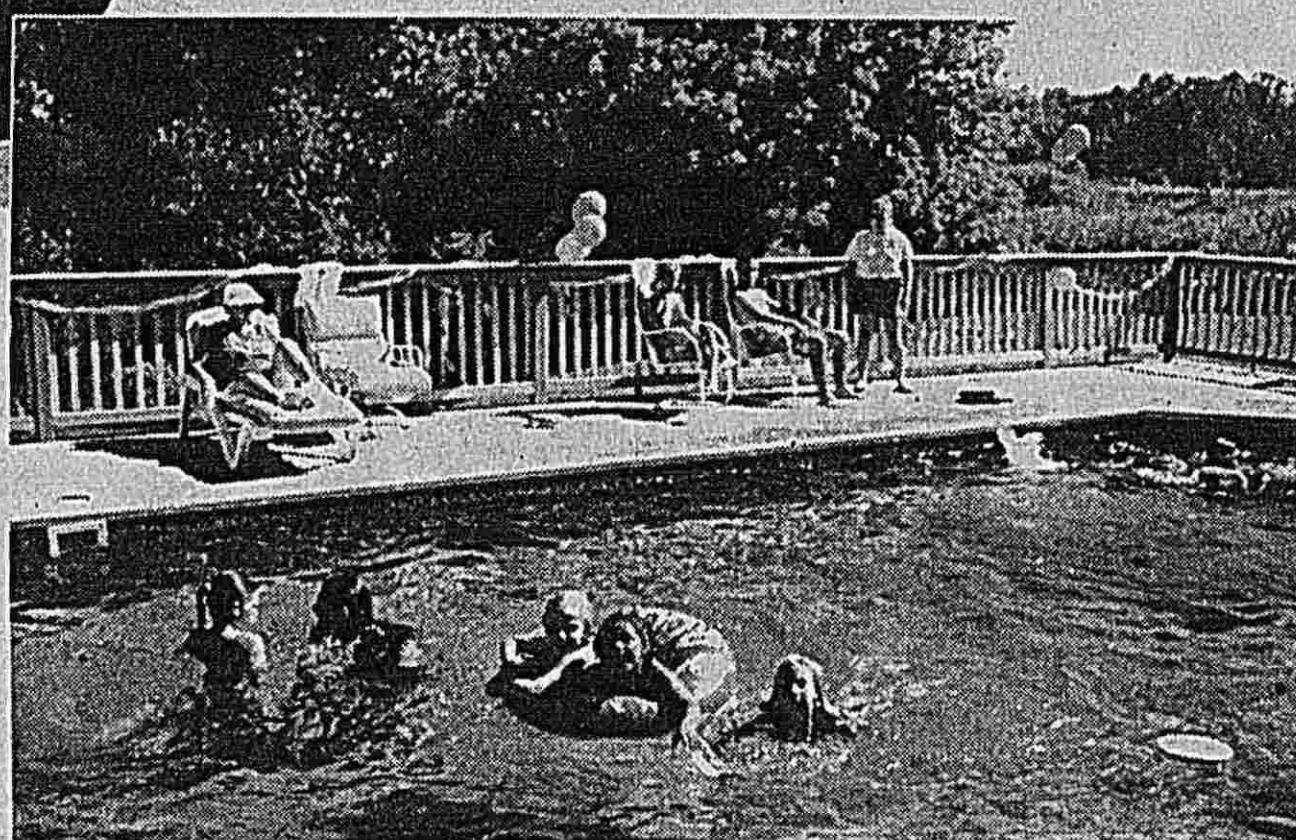

Aqua Pool and Spa wants you as a customer for life, which is why we provide proper training to make it very easy for you to keep your pool or spa clean and healthy for years to come. We have free water testing and expert advice available at our store, or just give us a call anytime if you ever have any questions.

The bottom line is, we don't spend our time selling patio furniture, pool tables, barbecues, fitness equipment, hardware, lumber or Christmas trees.

We are pool and spa professionals!

Everyday more and more people are enjoying the benefits of owning their own swimming pool or spa. With today's emphasis on health and leisure, a pool or spa, sometimes referred to a hot tub, can be an extraordinary addition to any home. They both aid in the fitness and relaxation of the body and mind, while helping to bring family and friends together.

Pools and spas incorporate unique equipment that takes a very specialized technician to diagnose and repair if ever necessary. Most companies do not have the ability or the experience to work on these products properly. We do! Our 60+ years of pool and spa experience not only makes us one of the best repair companies in the area, but also helps us choose the best products to offer our valued customers. We take great pride in our service department, which repairs all brands of pools and spas. Hands on experience is the most important factor that gives us the knowledge to choose the best products. Our service department operates out of our local family owned store, not 30 or miles away like some other dealers. This insures fast, reliable service for our valued customers.

Still family-owned, providing thoughtful service

Funeral customs are slowly changing, and so too is the ownership of many family funeral homes and cemeteries.

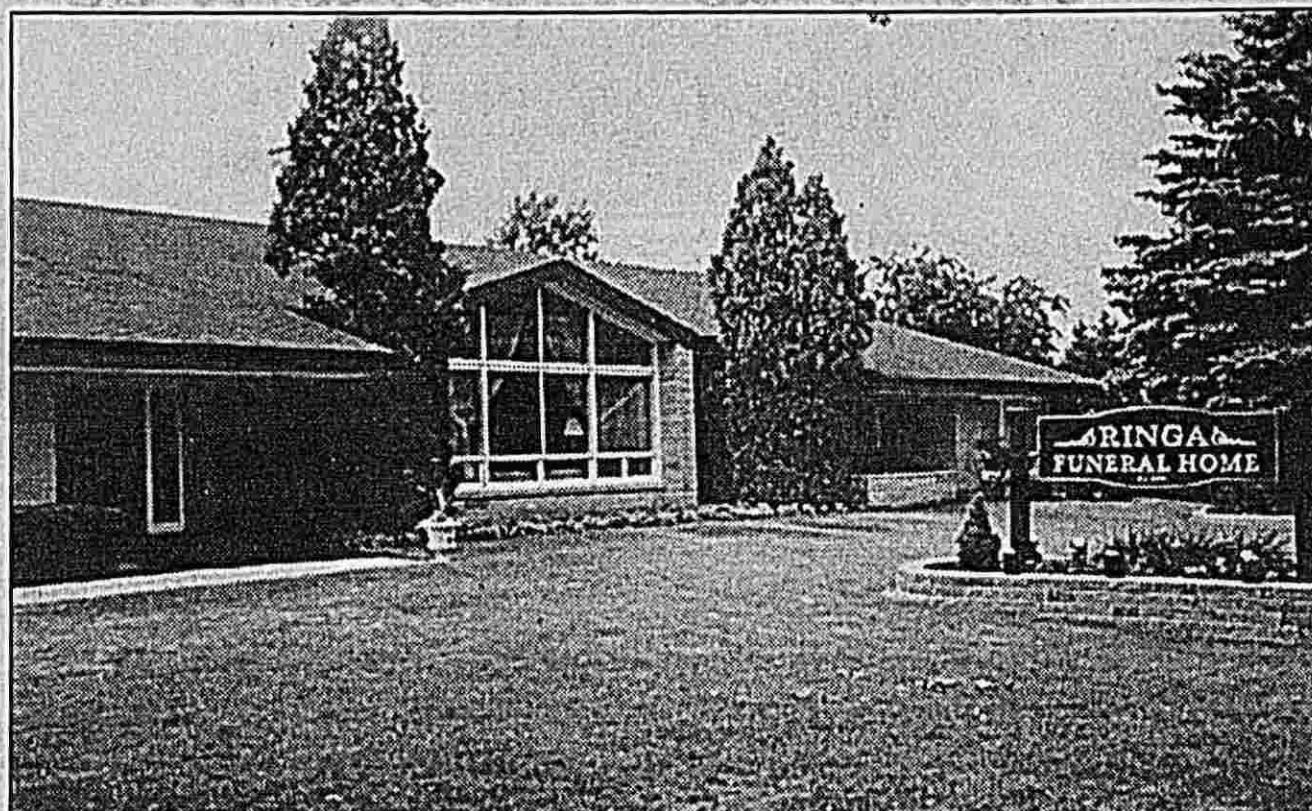

A recent trend has been for a few large domestic and foreign corporations to purchase family run funeral homes. Unfortunately, they do not change the name on the sign, leaving one to assume the original family still owns the establishment.

Our firm is still owned by the family that founded it over 103 years ago. And, because we are a family owned and directed funeral home, we can still provide the thoughtful service that only a family can at fair prices.

A full assortment of options are available to every family. Whether the funeral service is elaborate or simple, or possibly with no formal service at all, we always give the same high level of professional care. We offer a wide range of products to meet even the most sensitive of budgets.

Meaningful funeral ceremonies are rites of passage. Planning a funeral that will be meaningful to your family is one of the most important tasks you will ever undertake. We invite you to call us and learn about the many alternatives we offer.

DiMarco's Restaurant: THAT'S ITALIAN

Donna DiMarco is an experienced restaurateur. In a recent interview, she explained how her approach has allowed the restaurant to grow from an intimate one-room Italian eatery with 13 tables to a thriving business.

"It's many things that make a restaurant work," explained DiMarco. "However, genuine kindness is my focus. Once I realized I was here to serve, things just got better and better."

DiMarco's restaurant has been satisfying Italian appetites since 1990. With the inspiration from her mother's recipes, Donna DiMarco had the ingredients and training to help start the restaurant.

"I always thought that I could make a living in this business," said DiMarco. "Many of my customers have become my friends. I think one of the keys to this restaurant is that we make people feel comfortable and appreciated."

Part of the restaurant's charm is the atmosphere, warm and cozy. Oftentimes in the winter, many patrons dress up, while in the summer, some dine in shorts. Whatever the occasion, you'll feel like family.

"The classy Italian eatery has entertained many customers for special occasions including birthdays and anniversaries," DiMarco commented.

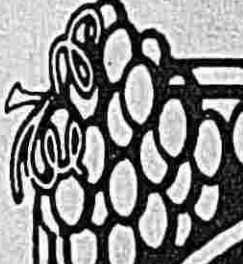

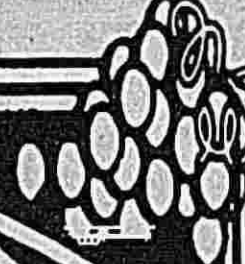

Through the years, DiMarco has seen the restaurant grow. "Consistency is so important," she said. "From a single room with no bar to later adding a second dining room and bar, DiMarco has made the transition to a full-service restaurant, even handling private parties and catering events. The restaurant consistently earns rave reviews from critics, garnering four stars by some."

A resident of Gurnee, Donna DiMarco has two sons, Anthony and Michael.

You don't have to travel to Taylor St. in Chicago to get authentic Italian cuisine. Actually, there's a Chicago-style eatery located in downtown Antioch. Try one of DiMarco's almost famous pasta creations, it's sure to be a memorable experience.

Stop by DiMarco's for a special Italian dinner. Easy to find on Route 83 in downtown Antioch, parking is available behind the restaurant. Reservations are recommended and can be made by calling 847-395-8883.

DOORS & MORE

sales trademark —
custom millwork at reasonable price

Keith Surroz was in the construction business when he saw an advertisement that claimed to have doors and trim for sale, and thought it sounded like a terrific offer.

He could use the doors in the homes he builds. He expected to find around 20 to 25 doors and he planned to purchase all of them.

When he arrived at the address however, he found a whopping 500 doors for sale. The man who placed the ad must have been a very good salesperson, because even though Keith had the thought, "Where will I put them?" running through his head, he bought the doors. All 500 of them.

But with his entrepreneurial spirit, the would-be daunting storage problem turned into a new business idea.

The new business idea was to open a store called Doors & More. Keith is a "local boy," so he knows the area well and is familiar with the customer base. In recent years he has seen several lumber stores go out of business and he can sympathize with the owners.

"It's hard to compete," said Keith. He has found his niche, however, offering customized millwork and quick installation. Keith has a solid crew working for him and they pride themselves on quality craftsmanship. Though the larger chain stores are great in their own right, often they cannot meet the specifications customers need. Customized work comes in handy at those times.

"Many customers need a door that is just an inch or two from the standard size," said Keith. Homeowners also use doors to give originality to the house and custom work is needed then as well. Keith gave the following examples of the type of requests they receive for custom work. A customer wanted his door painted a very specific shade of red. Unable to find the door already in the color he was after, he had Doors & More paint it the exact color he envisioned.

Another customer brought in a picture of a flower she wanted etched on the glass portion of the door. Keith sent the picture to the glass manufacturer and they were able to do the art work the customer wanted. Keith was also able to help a client who wanted the door to a room childproofed. He designed a door that would meet the current needs and that would still be in style when childproofing was no longer necessary.

Keith tries to save the customer money in several ways. All the millwork is done at the shop, which is less expensive for the customer than if it were sent out. He continues to buy doors in bulk and he keeps his overhead low. Keith also keeps pre-finished doors for less because they cannot be customized.

With a little creativity, Keith turned his storage dilemma into a successful business. He has found a way to stay competitive with larger operations by providing a service that many homeowners and contractors need.

Betcha didn't know: Doors and More sells windows

A number of specialty businesses have evolved in Lake County in response to the great wave of development under way. Doors and More in Lake Villa is one of them.

Owner, Keith Surroz, brings 20 years of construction and carpentry experience to this home improvement business that picks up where the big chains leave off. Custom orders, installation and overwhelming variety in doors and trim are features that attract many.

But its biggest selling point, by far, is its pricing. With a sixth sense for a deal, Surroz travels throughout the Midwest, buying truckloads of overruns, discontinued lines and high quality seconds. Back in Lake Villa, he passes the bargains on to his customers. "I always tell people to give us a call," says Surroz, "because you never know what's coming off the truck this month." With a fully equipped shop and staff of experienced carpenters, Doors and More welcomes customers with special needs for both interior and exterior work. Odd sized openings create the most common challenge and Doors and More is poised to save these customers money in two ways:

"First, the door itself is a great price," says Surroz. "An since we'll come out and measure your project before we build it, you won't have to pay for alterations to your structure, which can get very pricey." The staff has custom-built projects from everything from functional pet doors to elaborate exterior church doors. Special orders usually are filled within two weeks.

Another frequently sought service is installation of windows into previously solid doors.

"When people are looking for an inexpensive way to upgrade their homes," says Surroz, "they often times dress up their front doors with leaded glass inserts, and replace hollow core interior doors with six-panel oak styles. The impact is dramatic."

Doors and More first opened in Round Lake Beach in 1994, but quickly outgrew its quarters. It moved to Lake Villa in 1996 where it opened with an expanded show and display area, maintaining the Round Lake Beach facility for overstock. Surroz remains involved in home building but concentrates his efforts on Doors and More.

Doors and More is located on Route 83 in Lake Villa, one half mile north of Rollins Road. Hours are: 9 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Tuesday through Friday; and 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday. You may call the store at (847) 356-6309 or fax inquiries to (847) 356-6334.

Get ready to make your home look great with Therma-Tru Doors. The styles, quality, quick delivery time along with a 20 year warranty make Therma-Tru steel fiberglass doors an excellent choice. Sale prices all through the months of April and May, 2003.

Got something in mind? Midwest Jobbers carries a large selection of molding, interior doors, stair parts and molded millwork. If we don't have it in stock, we can get it for you quick. Let Doors and More and Midwest Jobbers beautify your home. Special sale prices throughout May, 2003.

Floral Acres, Antioch's longest running greenhouse and floral shop

Since 1956 area residents have relied on their gardening angels for friendly advice and quality products.

We recognize the need to provide excellent products and sound advice to our customers the same way we did 47 years ago.

Floral Acres is family owned and operated. Co-Owners Randy and Dick are always available for your gardening questions, while Co-Owners Suzanne and Lori keep the Floral Department top notch. All together they have 5 designers. Assistant greenhouse manager "Jasper" is always very helpful and thrives on assisting beginning gardeners.

Floral Acres grows their own vegetable and bedding plants and have all the supplies you'll need to make your garden grow. Stop in soon and see Spring Start to Bloom.

Attention cross stitchers

The Village Stitchery Inc. at 891 Main Street, Antioch, Illinois is a dream come true for the Mother - Daughter team of Helen Anderson and Tracy Moffat. They are both avid cross stitchers and enjoy sharing their expertise and love for the art with others.

The shop is in a charming early nineteen hundreds building in the heart of downtown. It is a full service counted cross stitch shop with all of the products to create and finish beautiful works of art.

They also offer classes for both beginners and advanced for adults and children. Various workshops are planned for later this spring and into summer. All the information will be posted at the shop and on their website: info@thevillagestitchery.com. The online catalog should be up and running within the next few weeks for your shopping convenience.

Come in to sign up for our rewards club. Purchase $200 in merchandise and receive $20 in free merchandise.

On Thursday, April 24th The Village Stitchery Inc. will be hosting a "Stitchin' Party" from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Join us for a fun evening of stitching, delicious appetizers, desserts and beverages, drawing for great gifts all evening, including a $25 Village Stitchery Gift Certificate. The cost is $10 due at the time of registration. Sign up early limited spaces are available

State Bank of the lakes plans new facility

Randy Miles, president and CEO, has announced that State Bank of the Lakes will be adding a fourth facility to their existing line of full service banks. The new addition will be located on the West Side of McHenry, just west of Culvers on Hwy. 120. Once the weather warms, ground will be broken at the currently empty site.

"We feel our combination of state of the art products and services, knowledgeable staff, excellent customer service and dedication to the communities we serve will give us an advantage over the competition in the area," stated Miles "We take our role as a community partner very seriously. This commitment is what differentiates us from the national competition." Adding to the bank's Strengths is the fact that it's been successfully operating for close to 110 years.

Like it's sister facilities, the newest State Bank of the Lakes will offer a full line of deposit and loan products for personal and business customers, online banking, credit and debit card services, real estate loans and, most recently, Insurance and investment services. Each facility offers a community room, available at no cost to non-profit organization. The main difference in the McHenry, facility is that it will house office space for lease to complimentary businesses such as accountants, lawyers and other professionals.

State Bank of the Lakes hopes to open the McHenry facility for business in the first quarter of 2004. It currently operates full service facilities in Antioch, Lindenhurst, Grayslake (Lake County) and Spring Grove (McHenry county).

Come Grow With Us...

Nothing says "success" better than growth. As State Bank of The Lakes begins preparations for it's fifth facility, now is a perfect time to see what all the excitement's about. Take advantage of all we offer, from the traditional banking you'd expect from a 100-year-old entity, to the unexpected touches that make us the success we really are. No matter how much we grow, you'll never have to give up that community feeling which makes banking with us so comfortable.

If you haven't already planted roots with us, Spring is the perfect time to do so. We'll begin building our new McHenry facility soon, but our Antioch, Lindenhurst, Grayslake and Spring Grove facilities are ready when you are. Come grow with us!

State Bank of The Lakes - a tradition of Community Service you can bank on!

Learn to dance this summer

This summer, get in step at Waterford Dance Academy! The Lindenhurst Dance Studio opened in September of 2000, offering classes for children, teens and adults. If it is a once-per-week class you are looking for, there is a 6 week program beginning June 23rd. Children ages 3 to 5 can take classes in Creative Dance or PreBallet with Tap. For beginners age 6 through teens, choose from Ballet, Tap, Hip Hop, or Jazz. Dancers with a little more experience can enroll in one or more of the studio's Summer Intensive Sessions. These 2-week sessions combine various dance disciplines, and meet for 3 hours, twice per week. The studio faculty prides itself with teaching classes in proper technique, while still maintaining the balance between discipline and fun. Waterford Dance Academy is located in Waterford Commons, off Grass Lake Rd, just 1 mile west of Route 45. For more information, please call 847-265-2654.

Because your pet deserves the best

Super Dog is located on Main St. in Beautiful Downtown Antioch, and new to our community but certainly not new in pet grooming. Many years of experience and a great love for animals is what makes Super Dog the experience your pet will enjoy, and look forward to the next visit.

School trained and Certified using state of the art equipment is just another super feature at Super Dog.

Try the New China Buffet

Located in downtown Antioch in the Orchard Street Mall is now open to serve you the finest in Oriental cuisine.

Owner Jim Wong takes great pride in the many family recipes prepared for the restaurant. Our buffet is available everyday, 7 days a week, for lunch and dinner. The variety of over 85 items, including beverage and dessert, is very affordable and well worth it. If buffet is not for you, order off the large menu and enjoy the service of our very friendly staff. Hope to see you soon.

Pizza 911 expands menu

Drive past this restaurant on Grand Avenue, just four blocks west of Route 83, and you might almost miss it. But don't be fooled by the outside! Right next to the railroad tracks; this unassuming pizza place is a whole lot more!

With a dining room big enough to seat 70 people, you will enjoy their pizza, but the extensive menu will surprise you! Love lasagna and mostaccioli? Pizza 911's homemade sauce will bring you back for more. How about BBQ Ribs? So tender, they fall off the bone. Come in every day of the week for different specials.

Pizza 911 is also expanding their menu! Stop by any day of the week for their All You Can Eat Lunch Buffet - featuring daily specials, soup and salad bar plus a beverage for $ 7.95! Soup & Salad Bar is available for $5.95 including beverage. In a hurry? Try pizza by the slice.

The newest edition to the food fare at Pizza 911 is the Sunday Brunch. From 9 a.m. - 2 p.m., brunch will feature breakfast classics and too many others to list (includes beverage). Just $9.95 for adults, $5.95 for kids 12 and under, and 3 and under eat free.

Pizza 911 owners, The Stephansen family, are also strong supporters of the community they live in. Participating in community events, and sponsoring local groups like the scouts, football & baseball teams, and the fire department are just a few of the ways they give back to their community.

With upcoming communions, graduations and bridal showers, don't forget that Pizza 911 offers catering service! Sports fans are always welcome in the dining room to watch the game on any of the six televisions in the dining areas. Don't let the outside fool you - come on in, enjoy the food - you will definitely be back for more!

LLV Chamber: Fastest Growing

The Lindenhurst-Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce is on the move. Once a small group of businesses uniting to promote local shopping and business activity, the chamber has grown from approximately 100 members three years ago to approximately 250 members today. It is the fastest growing chamber in Lake County.

"I attribute the growth to a proactive board of directors, said Connie Meadie, chamber executive director, and former chamber director for the Richmond-Spring Grove Chamber of Commerce. "I've been involved with many chambers, but I've never seen the enthusiasm this board has. I'm confident our chamber will be over 300 members strong this year."

This growth requires more services provided to members. Mary Vanderbloomen has joined the chamber part-time to help coordinating office functions and assisting with members' needs.

"Mary's been a big help in allowing Connie the time to get more members involved, as well as attracting new members," said Bill Stanley of American Family Insurance and former chamber president from 2001-2003. "Our members can take comfort that we're utilizing our dues very carefully and trying to maximize their value."

The chamber regularly schedules events that help unite members and allow for networking opportunities. Chamber mixers, monthly luncheons, Oktoberfest networking night, ribbon-cutting ceremonies, parades and many more new events planned are just some of the networking opportunities. All of this adds up to a business community that's eager to serve local customers.

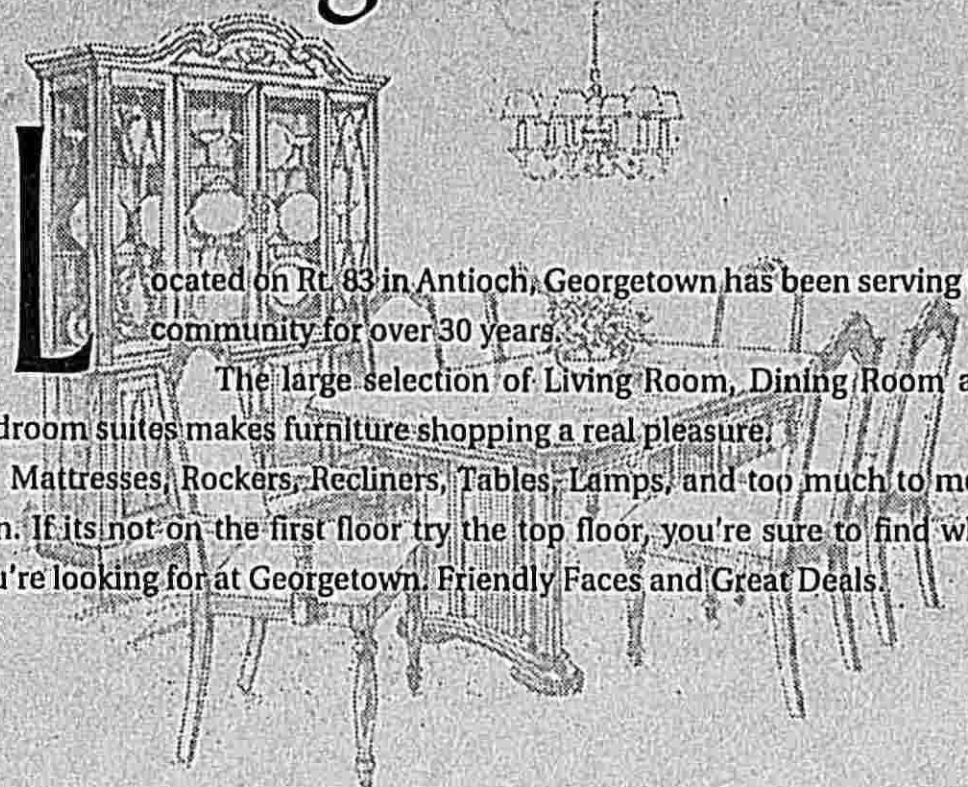

What's up next for the chamber? The annual ATHENA awards dinner is scheduled for April 27, recognizing a local resident who makes a major impact in business or service. The annual Paul Yurs scholarship will be awarded to a high school senior in May, as well as the annual recognition awards to local police and firemen will be awarded at the May chamber luncheon.

The chamber holds luncheons every other month at Harbour Club, located off of Grass Lake Road.

"We're having lot's of fun, said Jim Hyerdall of the Advertiser Network and new chamber president. "Just this last month we've welcomed six new members. We have many new and exciting programs to implement this year to help maximize exposure for our businesses in the local communities."

The LLV Chamber of Commerce office is located in the First American Bank building at 500 East Grand Avenue, Lake Villa. Please call 847-356-8446 for any information.

Greetings Lake Villa & Lindenhurst!

I am the new Account Executive for the Lake Villa Record and Lindenhurst News.

I started working for Lakeland Newspapers as an Administrative Sales Assistant 1 1/2 years ago-about the same time my family moved to Grayslake.

I am originally from the Northwest side of Chicago, and spent about 8 years in the Northwest Suburbs of Cook County. Before moving to Lake County, my family and I lived in Louisville, Kentucky. Much of my extended family now resides in Lake County, so moving into this beautiful area seemed natural.

I am excited to work with the area businesses as I have a strong background in sales and marketing with both large corporations and small one-owner businesses. I have a degree in Merchandising and Marketing and my goal is to help the Lake Villa and Lindenhurst businesses market their products and services to our readership in the Lake County area.

I appreciate the warm welcome I have received in the last two months and look forward to working with all the area businesses to help a steadily growing community continue to grow strong!

DOGS WELCOME AT... BIG AL'S DOGHOUSE

New business in town is calling all dog lovers to come out and enjoy a bite to eat with their families ... and their dogs. Big Al's Dog House II, is located in the trendy new Depot St. Station. This is not your ordinary hot dog stand. It is a casual dining establishment with a variety of food & ambiance enhanced by the Chain-O-Lakes atmosphere. The decor has unique touches of woods & water like a stone-faced counter, a fish tank, and a bear skin rug. As a welcome to family oriented customers, the owner of Big Al's recognizes your four-legged canine friend as an important part of the family. His business logo brags the image of his own dog, Taz. He has made plans for a dog day afternoon when you will be encouraged to bring your dogs out to Big Al's Dog House II. You will even be able to purchase dog treats called Frosty Paws. Another promotion that may entice the double dog lover is Big Al's Show Off Board. If you bring in a picture of your dog for the board, you'll get a free hot dog.

A creative man named Al Gordon with many talents and a people-loving quality, is the entrepreneur behind Big Al's Dog House II. He is an idea man whose resume includes his experience as a young boy hustling hot dogs on the south side of Chicago. Avid boaters may recognize him as the operator of the original Big Al's Dog House boat that has been serving a limited menu for four years while anchored on Grass Lake. The family run, on-the-water, drive-up hot dog stand will remain in business beginning Memorial Day through Labor Day weekend, & holidays. The land based Dog House will provide a greater selection of food including kids meals, soup, salad, shakes, & sundaes. Al Gordon was fulfilling not only a public, but also a personal demand in his endeavor to open a new business. Formerly in construction, he used the skills of his trade to work on the boat and on his current restaurant. Al's wife Jennifer and children, Jessica & Samantha, have contributed essential support in the family enterprise also. They have worked as crew on the boat and helped launch the opening of their new business. Big Al's Dog House II provides a more stable business for the Gordon family and good food for patrons year round.

Preserving your memories

Dan & Carole Olenick have been photographing and video taping wedding memories for 11 years. It is such a pleasure to work with people when they are so happy and to help them create memories for a lifetime.

They opened Classic Photo & Video in Antioch 4 years ago, starting out at Antioch Banquets and are now located on Lake Street near the movie theater. In addition to weddings, they do family portraits, high school seniors and specialty events. Video montages of family pictures have become very popular for birthday, anniversary and wedding receptions and as gifts. The montages create a family history for generations to see.

They raised their three children in Johnsburg and now have 6 grandsons in the area. They plan to move back to Antioch in the near future.

Got concrete?

In the past when someone mentioned concrete, people rarely got excited. Concrete was usually seen as dull in appearance, cracked, worn and doesn't hold up well under the adverse weather condition. Thanks to new advances, concrete is quickly redefining its role in the residential marketplace. Today, the leading edge of concrete is a process called thin stamped overlays or decorative overlay. This involves stamping or impressing three dimensional pattern tools into a polymer cement material with molds made from actual brick or stonework. When the process is complete, the product is then stained and sealed, highlighting the colors and providing greater stain and weather resistance.

Concrete can be made more durable with overlays applied directly on top of existing concrete and it comes in a wide variety of finishes and colors offering the homeowner endless design possibilities. "A homeowner can now have that brick or stone looking driveway and still have enough money left over to enjoy it" says John Stringer, owner of Mudd Crete Design, a company that specializes in decorative concrete installations in Lake County. This material is being looked at in so many new ways. Not only are we getting more calls from general contractors, but now we're getting as many calls from homeowners, architects and designers asking us to consult on new design possibilities. It's an exciting time to be in this business. So if you have concrete, don't replace it, enhance it!

And remember, Mudd Crete Design uses an architectural overlay application for the beautification and restoration of existing concrete. It's more than an overlay, it's art! The system that we use creates the realistic appearance and the durability of brick, tile, stone slate, wood planking and conventional stamped crete. This system can be applied to both interior and exterior and is suitable for both commercial and residential applications. For more information and examples of this process, visit Mudd Crete Design web site at www.muddcretedesign.com or call 847-356-5171.

Get effective skills for working with and raising kids

Two nationally renowned speakers in teaching and working with children and adolescents and the emotional and behavioral stresses they face, will be giving a talk on April 8 at the brand new Proops Professional Development Center, part of the Allendale Association. This talk is for teachers, parents, foster parents, volunteers, social workers, psychologists, and child welfare specialists, just about anyone who works with or is raising children in today's environment with its emotional and behavioral stresses on youth.

The two speakers on April 8 will be Dr. Nicholas Long and Dr. Larry Brendtro. Dr. Long is a national leader in teaching and programming for emotionally disturbed children and adolescents. He has co-authored "Conflict in the Classroom" - Teaching Children Self Control and Life Space Intervention. Currently he is co-editor of the Reclaiming Children and Youth: the Journal of Strength-Based Intervention and is president of the Life Space Crisis Intervention Institute. Dr. Long's talk will be titled "The Therapeutic Value of Kindness." Dr. Brendtro is president of Reclaiming Youth International-a non-profit organization networking those who serve children in conflict in the family, school, and/or community. He has authored seven books: "The Other 23 Hours," "Positive Peer Culture," "Re-educating Troubled Youth," "Reclaiming Youth at Risk," "Reclaiming Our Prodigal Sons and Daughters," "No Disposable Kids," and "Kids Who Outwit Adults." Dr. Brendtro will be speaking on the topic of "The Resilience Code: Creating Courage for Discouraged Children." It is rare to have such experienced speakers at the same time. The information gained will be invaluable in working and raising the youth of today.

The Allendale Association has been working with children for over 100 years. Allendale has gained considerable experience in the issues that face our children and adolescents. Allendale has been providing outpatient counseling since 1991 through the Bradley Counseling center located in Lake Villa and its new Gurnee office. This seminar is part of the new initiative of Allendale to sponsor and share expertise that will help adults who work with and raise children to be more effective in dealing with the stress that they face.

Reserve your spot for this seminar immediately. The seminar is Tuesday, April 8, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at a cost of $100. The seminar will be held at the Proops Professional Development Center located on Grand Ave. just west of Route 83 on the Allendale Campus. Register with Dave McKenna at 847-245-6393 or dmckenna@allendale4kids.org. Seating is limited.

FAST FISHING ACTION

Since introduced a few years ago, the 1800 has established a growing fan base thanks to its intermediate size and big-time tournament fishing features. With the 1800 Pro-V you get fishing's most coveted design that is easy to handle, trailer and store.

1800 Pro-V SE

It's quick, nimble and loaded with fishability, and it has an exceptional amount of floor-space compared to other boats in its class. The 1800 SE features a large aft casting platform and the option of adding a port ProControl console with a wraparound windshield.

Transforming a bathroom into a livingroom

The room that is undergoing the greatest amount of transformation in new construction and remodeling is the bathroom. The average master bath has tripled in size since the 1930s. The bathroom was once designed as an oversized water closet, but people are now finding respite and sanctuary in multiple room master and guest baths. The weekend spa mentality has developed into a lifestyle that Americans want to experience on a daily basis.

Functional Furniture and Finishing Touches

Along with the larger space comes the question of what to build and design into an updated bathroom. Bringing furniture into the bath is a growing trend because furniture pieces make a bathroom feel cozier and less sterile... and they provide added storage. Many manufacturers now offer fixtures like sinks set in furniture pieces designed specifically for the bathroom. Another option is to retrofit a dresser or armoire.

Mixing and matching furniture finishes to blend with the flooring and trim throughout your home creates a warm bathroom space and connects that bathroom to the rest of the home.

Moments of Relaxation

Look for spaces to rest in the bathroom. Add a stool near the tub or in the shower for a resting point. Simple chairs slipcovered in terry or chenille offer a place to rest and can withstand water. If space permits, add a pair of upholstered chairs with an ottoman for a private spot to read or relax after a hot bath.

Soft Lighting

Dimmers can be installed quickly and easily even with older electrical push-button switches. Candles are another great option because they can also add scent to the room. Designers like to place regular lamps on a vanity or shelf area. These give the bathroom more of a bedroom feel.

Flooring

Tile is a great option if you can warm it up. Look for an unexpected rug to add to the room. Instead of typical bathroom rugs, consider an Oriental, sisal or bound remnant piece. Or, for added warmth, install wood flooring instead of tile. These flooring ideas will bring your room scale and blend the design along with the other rooms in the house.

Wall Covering

No more printed borders! Splicing and dicing wall space makes a room feel smaller and busier to the eye. Wallpaper can work in the bathroom if you're not steaming up the area all the time. If installed incorrectly, wallpaper will quickly curl in the corners and ruin the look of the room. Think about a softer, soothing painted color, wood panels or laminates for the wall. Adding warmth to the walls will help you feel relaxed when you walk into the room.

Bath Towels

Towels make you feel snugly if they are soft, clean and fluffy. Relegate old towels to the rag bin and replenish your bath with new towels every year or so. Towels should blend in with bathroom décor and not contrast as the only element with or without color. This keeps your eye on the space and not the towels.

Clean and Clear

Uncluttered space is one of the most relaxing ways to enjoy a room. The bathroom should be clear of lots of small appliances, make-up, plastic plants, etc. The more items sitting around in a bathroom, the more difficult it will be to keep clean. Organizing your daily routine will help determine storage and placement of those things you need most.

Do all the 'little things' to make home marketable

Despite the late surge of winter weather, spring is here. If this is your year to make a move, get your home ready for the rush of homebuyers with these simple tips:

- Fix up your yard. Prune your trees and shrubs and clear away any fallen branches or leaves. Take the time to loosen the soil around perennials and plant new annuals since these will brighten up your lawn. "Your home's exterior is a prospective buyer's first impression," said Fran Broude, senior regional vice president, Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage. "A well kept yard is a good indication that the interior has been well taken care of too."

- Clean your gutters. Look for leaks in downspouts and sagging areas in the gutters where rain may be collecting and not circulating properly. Also, check to see that there are guards or extensions on downspouts that direct water away from the home to protect your basement and foundation from water damage.

- Inspect decks and fences. Survey the top of your deck to see if rain is penetrating the surface. If the deck is properly sealed, raindrops should bead. If rain is soaking into the boards, it's time to reseal. Also, look for loose boards and protruding nails.

- Clean the windows. Wash your windows, screens and windowsills, repairing any winter damage. Launder all of the window curtains and drapes. Most importantly, open your windows to let the fresh air in.

Orion Fire Protection, Inc.

"Serving All Your Residential Fire Protection Needs"

Smoke detectors will save lives by providing a warning of smoke existence, but they can do nothing to extinguish a growing fire. Too often, battery-operated smoke detectors fail to function because the batteries are dead or have been removed. The combination of smoke detectors and sprinkler systems can reduce the loss of life by 98.5%, which is an increase of 48.5% over smoke detectors alone. Orion Fire Protection, located in Wauconda at 1000 North Rand Road, Suite 123, phone (847) 526-0438, provides quality fire sprinkler systems and reliable service. Their staff has years of experience in fire sprinkler installation and design.

Orion Fire Protection keeps abreast of new developments in materials that will enhance fire sprinkler design and reduce costs to their customers. One of their specialties is residential fire sprinkler systems. Ceiling or sidewall sprinklers can be neatly concealed in your home with no more than a 3/4" cap showing for effective fire protection. Custom caps and covers are available in a range of colors to blend with your décor. Your sprinkler system will severely limit a fire's growth. Therefore, damage from a home sprinkler system will be much less than smoke and fire damage if the fire had gone on unabated.

Contact Orion Fire Protection at (847) 526-0438 for a free consultation and estimate on a residential fire sprinkler system. A small investment now could save your most cherished treasure in the future—your life.

Painting Perfection

Jarek Piskor, Owner • "The Home Painting Specialist"

When you need your home painted, you want it done right. You want those little cracks filled, the nail holes puttled, the trim painted straight, the colors to blend and you certainly don't want the paint to peel. "Anything worth doing is worth doing right!" That's the belief of Painting Perfection, serving the northwest suburbs, phone (847) 361-5792.

Painting Perfection is a complete home painting service with years of experience. They specialize in interior and exterior brush, roller and spray applications as well as complete patch and repair, preparation and decorative accents. To fully prepare the surface and ensure a paint job that will last, they provide pressure washing and rinsing, mildew removal, wire brushing, wallpaper removal, hand scraping and whatever else it takes to get the surface ready for a fresh coat of paint. They will then putty, caulk, bondo, repair cracked plaster, patch mortar, skim, prime and tape before the first stroke of the brush. They can apply any type of paint—stains, sealers and preservatives, varnishes, lacquers, texture coatings and more. To make sure the job's complete, they seal, remove the tape and clean up the work site.

Don't let needing the house painted get you down. Call the professionals at Painting Perfection at (847) 361-5792 for a free estimate, and get the job done right!

Free Bird Show On March 29

Attention bird lovers! This Saturday, March 29, the Wild Bird Center, located in Fox River Grove at 934 Route 22 and Route 14, phone (847) 639-6594, is having a Raptor Show and gigantic spring sale. Those unfamiliar with a Raptor Show don't know what they're missing. First, the audience will be face-to-face with a bevy of live hawks and owls, some of the most majestic birds imaginable. The folks from the Spring Book Nature Center, who put on the show, will talk about the birds and answer questions. Behind the store, there will be a flight show in which several of the birds will fly freely in a habitat similar to what they would in nature. It's a show to remember for a lifetime. The show starts at noon and runs continuously until about 2:00 p.m. when the flight show begins. It's free and perfect for kids of all ages.

At the Wild Bird Center, you'll find birdseed and mixes, feeders, houses, baths, binoculars, books, gifts, gift certificates and much more. Visit them and browse anytime and then be sure to take advantage of their friendly and knowledgeable service.

While at the Wild Bird Center this Saturday, take advantage of their spring sale. Everything except optics will be at least 10% off and, combined with the frequent feeder program, gives you a total savings of over 20% on seed and mixes. Take in this reader ad for an additional 10% off any single item.

Montessori Children's House

Perhaps the most important developmental stage in any child's life is the pre-school years. Montessori Children's House, located in North Barrington at 115 Clover Hill Lane, phone (847) 550-0917, is devoted to helping your child develop positive attitudes and effective learning habits.

The Montessori methods were first introduced in the early 1900s by Italian Physician Maria Montessori, and they have been developed into a most beneficial learning experience. Montessori Children's House offers a progressive, well-equipped learning center for children from age 2-1/2 through 6 years. In an open classroom atmosphere, your child will learn to make decisions as he relates to the world around him. The learning center features fully trained, certified teachers and the finest equipment to help your child develop his full potential. The curriculum includes independent and group work in math, science, reading, language skills and the arts. Children are taught both academic and personal skills as well as exercises that develop memory, confidence and awareness. Montessori Children's House is pleased to offer the Parent/Child Community Program for ages birth to three years. This program is for both parent and child to attend as often as you wish and is held Monday through Thursday. Call for details.

To help your child prepare for the future in a healthy, well-rounded environment, contact Montessori Children's House today. Your child will thank you for it later.

Diamond Image Detailing

Nick Donfris, Owner

Diamond Image Detailing is this area's automotive "detail" connection. The staff is honest and professional and realize your vehicle is a valuable investment. They offer people who take pride in the appearance of their car a hand wash and wax service that will help preserve your car's finish, giving it that "new car" look once again. Cars, trucks and SUVs are all serviced.

At Diamond Image, several cleaning options are available. The hand wash includes washing of the exterior as well as vacuuming and a professional dressing for the interior. Their interior job includes shampooing the carpet, steam cleaning the seats, headliner and door panels as well as detailing the dash and treatment for all leather or vinyl. The hand wax process offers a complete hand wash and wax, removing road tar, pine sap and other harmful dirt and grime that builds up month after month. Their bumper-to-bumper treatment doesn't take long, and their rates are very competitive throughout Lake Zurich and the surrounding areas. They can even steam clean your engine upon request.

Diamond Image Detailing is located in Lake Zurich at 499 South Rand Road, phone 550-9386, and has been serving the area for over four years. Dealerships and individuals are invited to stop in and see for themselves why Diamond Image Detailing has become the local, one-stop detailing headquarters. They pay attention to detail! Gift certificates are available! Community Review readers, mention this reader ad and receive a discount on any service.

Meet your match

Future doctors have defining moment of their career

By KATHLEEN PETERSON
Special to Lakeland Newspapers

After four years of intense coursework and exhilarating laboratory and clinical work, medical students arrive at one of the defining moments of their medical educations and of their careers: Match Day.

This is the day on which graduating medical students are informed of the "match" they've received through the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP), which matches students with graduate medical education programs at teaching hospitals or medical schools. Depending upon the type of residency (which can range from family medicine to neurosurgery), this second phase of medical education entails between three and seven years of training. The NRMP results were announced last week to eager crowds in a ceremony known simply as "Match Day."

Like many other medical colleges across the nation, Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School (Finch/CMS) was transformed into a place of celebration and promise in honor of Match Day. Students who have taken part in the Match (a total of 182 at The Chicago Medical School this year) gathered in the lobby of the university in North Chicago, following a celebratory morning of events for both the senior class and their families.

At 11 a.m., students began to hear their names shouted out loud, with envelopes thrust into their hands. Inside those envelopes were decisions that will shape careers. Match Day is a day of excitement, hope, and ambition. For some, it is a day of relief, of change, or of disappointment. For everyone, it is a day of new beginnings.

The Class of 2003 at Finch/CMS boasted residency matches in outstanding programs throughout the United States, including The McGaw Medical Center at Northwestern University, Mayo Graduate School of Medicine, Stanford Medical Center, University of California San Francisco Medical Center, Yale-New Haven Medical Center, and The University of Chicago Hospital and Health System. "The Chicago Medical School Class of 2003 celebrated an outstanding match today," said Jan Reese, Associate Dean and Director of Student Affairs. "Our graduates were matched into prestigious residency programs across the country, with a large percentage of students receiving their first, second or third choice program. We are all very proud of their successes." Each year, approximately 16,000 U.S. medical school students participate in the residency match.

Aztec Construction Company

Established 1985

To have everyone "under one roof" implies closeness, security and convenience. When someone who is angry "raises the roof," it indicates that there is nowhere to take shelter in the situation. Roofs are so vital that they have become metaphors for the circumstances life throws our way.

Well-known for roof construction or restoration, Aztec Construction Company, serving the northwest suburbs, phone (847) 438-3737, provides expert roof construction, tear-offs and re-roofing. They are experienced in both flat and pitched roofs, and they handle residential, commercial and industrial projects. They are familiar with the full range of roofing products on the market today including shakes, shingles, composition roofs, built-up systems, sheet metal and single-ply as well as specialty systems including slate and tile. Aztec Construction also offers superior siding services including vinyl, aluminum, cedar and cement board siding. Aztec Construction Company will suggest which one will provide the most durability and best visual appeal while meeting your budget needs.

Your roof represents only about 5% of your building investment, but no building can endure without one. Trust your roof to Aztec Construction Company. Their experience and expertise, and their dedication to quality workmanship and materials, assure you of a roof that will preserve and protect your property for years to come. Illinois License No. 104012724.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
 *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
 *Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
 *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

219 Help Wanted Part-Time

Broad and Narrow Approaches to Job Searches

By Scott T. Fleischmann

When I was about twelve years old, my father who loved outdoor sports attempted to teach me to hunt and fish. Although I never developed my dad's love for these activities, I learned several skills that would serve me well in later life. One of these skills is essential to the job search process. He took an entire afternoon to share the differences between rifles and shotguns, and when to use each. In that same session, he taught me basic gun safety and how to clean these weapons. Although this may not seem to be a complex subject to hunters, I was not familiar with the sport and needed the lesson. A shotgun is projects a large pattern of small "shot" but a rifle sends one bullet directly to a very small specific target. Just as a hunter knows when to use a shotgun and when to use a rifle each job hunter needs to know which method to use.

The Rifle Approach

Those who know exactly where their career is headed you can use the rifle approach. In this approach, a candidate researches companies that seem to meet specific career objectives. They then send a resume to those that are the best match. This is the preferred method for those who have a defined career plan because they can work toward that goal. However, those who use this method you must have a complete understanding of their goals including: skill strengths, area's for personal growth, geographic preferences, the effects of spiritual beliefs on their career, etc. For those who would like to do a study of all of these factors, I suggest the book What Color is Your Parachute? 2000 (Bolles, Thomas Nelson: Berkeley, CA: Ten Speed Press, 1999). This book will help to analyze each factor that could influence a job search. It is updated every two to three years and is available at most libraries and bookstores.

The Shotgun Approach

Those who do not have specific career goals and a detailed plan on how to meet those objectives need to take a broader approach. They need to look at all of the opportunities that are available. They will send a resume to the every company that may have a job opening. They will then be considered for varying job opportunities, many of which they may never have considered. The goal is to get in the door to interview at many companies in order to see if they have a job that is a good skill and experience match. One of the difficulties of this method is that the candidate has not yet identified what the right job looks like. Subsequently, identifying a good job when it is available may not be easy. In the next column, we will explore how to know that right job when using the shotgun approach.

WANTED! HOME TO RENT! FAMILY IN NEED!

Hard working mom seeks 3-4 bedroom home or a 2 flat in Lake County. It's like this. My children and I are expecting a new addition to our life, full-time "Grandma". So we need some extra room. Due to some disability, we hope to find a ranch or 2 story with one of the bedrooms, bathrooms & laundry on main level. We're so happy to have grandma come. Although we have great references and good credit, we can only afford $850/mo., w/no utilities included or $1,000/mo. with water/heat included. We'll sign lease, first, last. We're clean, professional. No animals. Please contact this good family with home. Patty (847) 370-4465.

WANTED! VACANT HOMES! STOP MAKING PAYMENTS ON AN EMPTY HOUSE. Will pay fair market value if you'll lease w/option to purchase 12 to 24 months. (847)838-0972.

WILL BUY YOUR HANDY-MAN SPECIAL for cash, if you can be flexible with terms. (847)497-3505 after 6pm.
